

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

Also: memorial of T. W. Edwards, Frank Hohn and 60 others, citizens of Houghton county, for the same purpose;

Also: memorial of D. S. Kendall and 697 others, citizens of Houghton county, for the same purpose.

On motion of Mr. McKernan,

The memorials were referred to the committee on federal relations, and a copy of one of them was ordered printed in the journal.

The following is the memorial:

To the Honorable Senate and House of Representatives of the State of Michigan:

Your memorialists, citizens of the counties of Houghton, Keweenaw, Ontonagon, Marquette, Delta, Menominee, Chippewa and Mackinac, comprising what is known as the Upper Peninsula of Michigan, respectfully submit to your Honorable bodies:

That for many cogent reasons, part of which are set forth in this, their memorial, they most earnestly desire that the said Upper Peninsula of Michigan be set off from the rest of the State, ceded to the general government, to be erected, together with such portion of the State of Wisconsin bordering on Lake Superior, as has been ceded by that State for that purpose, into a Territory of the United States, to be called the Territory of Superior.

Your memorialists are informed that the State of Wisconsin has heretofore, by joint resolution of her Legislature, assented to the formation of this Territory, and ceded a portion of her area for the purpose above set forth.

Should their prayer be granted, your memorialists hope and confidently anticipate that the Territory would, at the end of a few years, become the State of Superior.

Your memorialists show that the Upper Peninsula of Michigan contains an area of sixteen thousand three hundred and forty-four (16,344) square miles, comprising within its limits four hundred and fifty-four (454) surveyed townships—a domain equal in size to the combined States of Massachusetts, Connecticut, Delaware and Rhode Island, or to the combined States of New Hampshire and New Jersey, and they submit, is quite sufficient in extent, at least, to form a sovereign State, without the territory hitherto offered by the State of Wisconsin.

Your memorialists estimate the present population of this portion of the State at fifty thousand (50,000) persons.

The principal branches of industry are mining for copper and iron, lumbering and fishing.

The amount of capital now invested in copper mining alone has been carefully estimated at fifty millions (50,000,000) of dollars, and the value of the copper product for the eight years ending with 1867, was forty-six millions (46,000,000) of dollars, the value of the product of 1867 alone being four and a half millions (4,500,000) of dollars.

That invested in mining for iron, in the county of Marquette, is about twelve millions two hundred and ten thousand (12,210,000) dollars, and the value of the product for the eight years ending with 1867, is fifteen millions six hundred and ninety-six thousand one hundred and two (15,696,102) dollars, the value of the product in 1867 alone being $3,500,000.

In lumbering, the returns for the year 1867 were about one and a half millions (1,500,000) of dollars.

In fishing, the returns for the same year were about three hundred thousand (300,000) dollars.

In farming (the produce consisting almost entirely of potatoes and hay) the returns for the same year were about two hundred and ten thousand (210,000) dollars.

These statements are believed to be nearly accurate, and they do not embrace the immense capital invested in other pursuits, (mercantile, manufacturing, building, etc.,) incidental to and dependent upon those above given.

In addition, your memorialists would call attention to the undeveloped, but certain, resources of the country; to the miles of copper-bearing belts in the counties of Houghton, Keweenaw and Ontonagon; to the square miles of iron lands in the counties of Marquette, Menominee and Houghton, as yet entirely unwrought, but, beyond question, as rich as the parts already developed; to the vast forests of pine and other valuable timber, so little of which has been cut down and manufactured that they may almost be said to be untouched; and to the almost wholly undeveloped agricultural and fishing resources.

The coast line of the Upper Peninsula on Lakes Superior and Michigan extends a distance of at least eight hundred miles.

Your memorialists would call attention to the fact that the Upper Peninsula, geographically considered, is not a part of the State of Michigan, but a mere outlying dependency thereof; that its principal branches of industry, namely: mining for copper, iron and other metals, are entirely different from those of the rest of the State, and require a distinct and peculiar kind of legislation to foster and encourage them; that, although it contains within itself the elements of a rich and flourishing State of the first class, yet, for six months of the year, and that, too, at a time when the Legislature of the State is in session, enacting the laws under which we live, its inhabitants cannot approach the State Capital without passing through the entire State of Wisconsin, and a large portion of the States of Illinois and Indiana, a distance estimated at nine hundred (900) miles. The shortest line of communication, in the summer months, with the lower part of the State, is from four hundred (400) to seven hundred (700) miles. This distance renders the public institutions of the State (all, without exception, situated in the Lower Peninsula) practically inaccessible to us, by reason of the expense and time necessary to reach them. The State University, the State Normal School, the Agricultural College, the executive, legislative and financial offices of the State, the Asylums for the Deaf, Dumb, Blind and Insane, the Reform School and State Prison, can only be reached by an expensive journey of one thousand (1,000) miles.

Your memorialists have learned to believe that among the objects sought to be obtained by the organization and maintenance of State governments, the only worthy ones are protection to the lives, property and happiness of its people, and encouragement in the way of wise and liberal laws to its chief sources of wealth and growth. The Upper Peninsula now pays a State tax of about thirty thousand ($30,000) dollars, equal to the entire State tax of Michigan for the year 1854, thus aiding to defray the expenses of the State government in all its branches, the charitable, educational, reformatory and penal institutions of the State, all far removed from us; under these circumstances, your memorialists submit that the State of Michigan does not, and, from the nature of the case, cannot, as to them, carry out the purposes for which it was formed.

They believe that in the Territory of Superior, in due course of time formed into a State, all of these institutions would be endowed and set in operation, immigration would flow in more rapidly than now, the number of mines would vastly increase, our other resources be more quickly developed, and the new State of Superior would in time be inferior to no other in wealth and material importance.

Your memorialists call attention to the fact that the sole return obtained by them for the very large State tax they pay, (excluding those privileges which cost so much more than they are worth as to be useless,) is the salary of two circuit judges.

Your memorialists neither assert nor believe that the State of Michigan has done them any intentional injustice, but that this condition of things necessarily springs from their isolated position and peculiar interests. In all candor they believe that the separation would be as beneficial to the Lower as to the Upper Peninsula. State lines offer no obstacle to the progress of trade, and the division would be soon followed by a marked increase of profitable intercourse between the two peoples.

A separate Territorial or State existence would enable us to obtain from the United States what we so much need, namely, appropriations of lands or money to assist in building our railroads, to improve our harbors, upon which assistance we have now no claim commensurate with our necessities, or such as we should have were we organized into a separate Territory.

Lastly, your memorialists take this occasion to say that they are men of all parties and of no party; that they make this request from a conviction that the material prosperity of the country wherein they have cast their lot will be greatly enhanced by its allowance, and they trust that the reasons which they have herein briefly and imperfectly urged, together with the unanimity of the request, may prevail upon your Honorable bodies to grant what they believe will prove a blessing to both givers and recipients; and your memorialists will ever pray, &c.

REPORTS OF SELECT COMMITTEES.

To the Hon. House of Representatives of the State of Michigan:

Your special committee, to whom was referred a resolution to inquire by what right and authority the Detroit River Plank Road Company keep and maintain a toll-gate, and collect toll on said road,

Have had the same under consideration, and find, by examination, that the said plank road company was organized under the general laws of this State, in the year 1852, for the purpose of constructing a plank road from the city of Detroit to Fort Wayne, in the county of Wayne, which they agreed to maintain and keep in good repair for public use.

Your committee also find that the directors of said company have failed to make any report to the Auditor General since the year 1857, which report they are required to make annually, according to section 39, on page 620, of the compiled laws.

We also find, by examining several statements, that the said road has not been kept up according to the requirements of the law, and that the collecting of toll thereon is an imposition upon the inhabitants of Springwells, Ecorse, and all others traveling said road. There is, as appears upon said statements, about five rods of plank, which is inside the limits of the city of Detroit. There is, also, about three-quarters of a mile which has been turnpiked by the citizens of the township, before the company took possession thereof, and when that gets run over with rut holes, it is filled up with surface loam. The next quarter of a mile—the side the citizens should travel on, is taken up by the street railway company, and the grade along side the street railway track is of a light, loamy and springy soil, without gravel, so that in wet seasons it is difficult for teams to pass with ease and safety. The balance of the road, about half a mile, is of a concave shape, with neither turnpike, ditches nor gravel, so that it is, in wet weather, always difficult to pass.

Therefore, your committee would ask leave to introduce the following:

Whereas, The Detroit River Plank Road Company has failed to comply with the requirements of law, and has not kept their road (which is only about two miles in length,) in a passable condition;

And, whereas, The directors of said company have failed to make any report or returns to the Auditor General since 1857, which they are required to do by section 39; page 620, of the compiled laws; therefore, be it

Resolved, (the Senate concurring,) That the rights and franchises of the Detroit River Plank Road Company be and are hereby declared forfeited.

PETER TERNES, Chairman.

Report accepted and committee discharged.

The rule requiring a concurrent resolution to lie on the table one day, was suspended.

Which motion did not prevail.

MESSAGE FROM THE GOVERNOR.

By unanimous consent, the Speaker announced the following:

EXECUTIVE OFFICE, }
Lansing, February 24, 1869. }

To the Legislature:

I have received and herewith transmit a circular from a committee of gentlemen at Louisville, Kentucky, organized for the purpose of corresponding with the several States, on the subject of the erection of a monument to the memory of Union soldiers, in each of the national or public cemeteries of the country, in which are buried more or less of those noble men.

Accompanying the circular is a statement of the number of these cemeteries in the Military Division of Tennessee, with a tabular statement of the number of burials from the several States in each.

It is stated that the remains of 5,465 Michigan soldiers rest in the twenty cemeteries in that division. How many similar burial places there are in the other military divisions, I am not informed.

It is the policy of the government, so far as may be possible, to gather the remains of those whose lives were laid down in the defense and support of the government, and to lay them at rest in national grounds or cemeteries, set apart and to be forever kept sacred for this holy purpose.

The Legislature of this State has so far made appropriations towards the cemeteries and monuments at Gettysburg and Antietam, and to no others. To erect suitable monuments in each of the grounds, would seem to be a solemn duty devolving upon a grateful people, whose government and institutions had been saved at the sacrifice of the lives of so many of its faithful sons.

I commend the circular and the whole subject to your consideration.

HENRY P. BALDWIN.

The following are the documents accompanying the message:

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Jan. 28, 1869.

To His Excellency, Gov. HENRY P. BALDWIN:

DEAR SIR—The undersigned, appointed by citizens of Louisville, a committee to devise measures for procuring means to erect a suitable monument in honor of the 3,905 Union Soldiers buried in the National Department of our city's beautiful "Cave Hill Cemetery," would respectfully address a few lines to you, and, through you, to the Legislature of your State, upon this deeply interesting subject.

In appointing us, our fellow citizens had direct and especial reference to a monument in one cemetery; but when we came together and conversed upon the matter, the question presented itself, "Why should not an appropriate monument be erected in every one of the National Cemeteries in this great Department?"

We learn from Col. E. B. Whitman, to whom the charge has been entrusted, of gathering the dead from their thousand scattered graves into resting places which can be kept forever sacred, that there are in this military division—a division extending from the borders of Western Virginia to the Mississippi, and from the Ohio to the Gulf—twenty National Cemeteries, in which are buried 114,648 forms of our brave soldiers, in numbers varying from the 355 reposing in the cemetery at Danville, Ky., to the mighty congregation of the dead, the 16,486 sleeping the last sleep in the Nashville Cemetery.

These cemeteries have been prepared with great care. Some of them are very picturesque and beautiful. All of them have deep, intense interest, for there is not a grave of the 114,648, which is not connected indissolubly with many a loving heart and a saddened home. Thirty-two States are represented in these resting places of the Nation's dead; and is it not fitting and right that in every one of them, through joint contributions from all these States, a chaste, tasteful monument should be erected in token of the affection and reverence in which their memory is held?

It has seemed to us that if once the attention of the Legislatures were called to the subject, there would be no hesitancy, nay, there would be great readiness, in appropriating the money requisite to accomplish this most desirable end.

We well remember how intent were the earnest men, sent by their respective States during the war to look after the sick and wounded soldiers, upon having the remains of the dead reverently cared for; and many a touching inscription, carved by soldiers on tablets near the lonely grassy mounds, attest their desire to have the graves of their comrades honored.

A small sum only per capita would be necessary, if all the States represented, or even if those the most largely represented, should participate in the work; and by entrusting the proceeds of the appropriations to a National Cemetery Committee, composed of a member or members from each contributing State, with instructions and authority to erect monuments adapted in proportions and expensiveness to the size of the respective cemeteries, in a short time every cemetery could be adorned with a beautiful and appropriate memorial, an enduring stone of remembrance.

Of these silent representatives of the thirty-two States in the twenty cemeteries, who, though dead, yet speak:

This number does not include those buried at Andersonville, of whom we have the total—13,705—but the classification has not yet reached us—nor does it include those who are registered as United States Troops, without reference to States.

If the suggestion made in regard to the appointment of the National Cemetery Committee receive your approval, we would furthermore suggest an early meeting of the Committee at Louisville. We mention this city, because Col. Whitman's headquarters are here, and we know that this accomplished officer, whose heart has been given to the work confided to him, will take great pleasure in showing the plans of the cemeteries, the records and tabulated statements, any and all of the papers which illustrate the history, progress and present condition of the cemeterial work, and in facilitating in every way the labors of the Committee.

By unanimous consent, Mr. Stockbridge introduced the following:

CONCURRENT RESOLUTION relative to the legislative excursion to the Deaf, Dumb and Blind Asylum, at the city of Flint.

Whereas, The Legislature of the State of Michigan did accept the invitation of the Trustees of the Deaf, Dumb and Blind Asylum, to visit that institution at the city of Flint, on the 26th ult., and also the invitations of the city municipalities of the cities of Saginaw, Bay, East Saginaw, Flint and Owosso;

And whereas, The Jackson, Lansing and Saginaw railroad company, the Flint and Pere Marquette railroad company, together with the Detroit and Milwaukee railway company, having tendered their respective roads, cars and engines for the purpose of conveying the parties on said excursion;

And whereas, The Michigan Central Railroad Company having also placed at the disposal of the other railway companies, the free use of one of their magnificent "Pullman's palace cars," as a reception car for His Excellency, Henry P. Baldwin, the Governor of the State of Michigan, the State officers and the members of the Legislature; therefore,

Resolved, (the Senate concurring,) That the well-merited thanks of this Legislature be and the same are unanimously given to the Trustees of the Asylum for the Deaf, Dumb and Blind, at the city of Flint, for the highly creditable manner in which they were received at their noble institution—reflecting as it did, the highest honor upon our State, and upon Egbert L. Bangs, A. M., the Principal, and the various teachers connected with it.

Resolved, That the more than generous offer of the Jackson, Lansing and Saginaw railroad company, the Flint and Pere Marquette railroad company, the Detroit and Milwaukee railway company, and the Michigan Central railroad company, to convey, without any compensation whatever, to and from Lansing, a distance exceeding 230 miles, the Executive of the State, the State officers, the members of both Houses of the Legislature, together with over one hundred and fifty other invited guests, is, we believe, without a parallel in the history of railroads in our State, and richly deserves at our hands this public acknowledgment for their magnanimity, and fully entitles them in the future, as in the past, to the confidence and support of the citizens of our State.

Resolved, That in accepting the invitation of the municipalities of the cities of Saginaw, Bay, East Saginaw, Flint and Owosso, and the open-hearted citizens of the same, wherein the wants and necessities of the inner-man were more than supplied, we hereby place upon record our faithful and sincere thanks, and assure our friends in these localities that we shall, for many a year, speak from the heart of their generous welcome, and hospitable cheer.

Resolved, That from the commencement of the excursion to our safe return to the Capitol, that much of our comfort and happiness depended upon the admirable arrangements made by the Hon. J. B. Walker, chairman of the Board of Trustees of the Asylum at Flint, and also to the Hon. O. M. Barnes, managing director of the Jackson, Lansing and Saginaw railroad, and to Col. E. H. Thomson, of Flint.

Resolved, That His Excellency, the Governor of the State, be respectfully requested to transmit copies of the foregoing preamble and resolutions, under the great seal of the State, to the presidents of the various railroads herein mentioned; to the mayors of the respective cities, and to the gentlemen herein named.

By Mr. Crossman: memorial of the president, cashier and directors of the Second National Bank of Lansing, relative to certain moneys collected by the State as a specific tax upon banks.

On motion of Mr. Mead,

The memorial was referred to the committee on ways and means, and was ordered printed in the journal.

The following is the memorial:

To the Honorable Senate and House of Representatives of the State of Michigan:

Your petitioners respectfully represent that the State Treasurer, from time to time, during the years 1867 and 1868, made requirement of the Second National Bank of Lansing, under act No. 122, laws of 1867, to pay specific taxes; which the bank, not wishing to enter into conflict with the State, paid in full, at the same time claiming and protesting that said taxes were wrongfully imposed and demanded.

Your petitioners further represent that a large number of the National banks of this State refused to pay specific taxes, in whole or in part, under said act, and have been sustained in such refusal by the Supreme Court of this State, on the ground that the act is unconstitutional, and in conflict with the laws of the United States.

Your petitioners further represent that the act of payment under the circumstances enumerated, rests as an unequal burden on the banks who paid, which ought not, of right, to remain.

Your petitioners also represent and claim that the amounts so paid should be returned by the State, with interest, and respectfully pray you to enact a law which shall secure their rights, and return to them the amounts paid, and interest.

BOARD OF TRADE ROOMS,
Detroit, Mich., Feb. 27, 1869. }

To the Honorable, the Legislature of the State of Michigan:

At a meeting of the Board of Trade held this day, the following preamble and resolutions were adopted:

Whereas, His Excellency, Governor Baldwin, has recommended in his message that the Geological Survey of this State be re-organized and provided for, and a joint committee of both houses of the Legislature having strongly recommended such work, and having reported a bill for the same;

And whereas, This Board recognizes the great value of such surveys and reports in developing the material resources of the State by pointing out the location and value of the various ores, stones, coals, and other products of the earth, and making this information officially known to the people of this and other States, thereby calling attention to the unsurpassed advantages of the State of Michigan as a place of residence and for profitable investments; therefore

Resolved, That this Board earnestly recommends the passage of such bill, that the work may be begun under the direction of competent persons, to be selected by the Governor for the purpose.

WALTER BOURKE, President.

RAY HADDOCK, Secretary.

REPORTS OF STANDING COMMITTEES

By the committee on federal relations:

The committee on federal relations, to whom was referred a communication from His Excellency, the Governor, submitting to this House the action of the Congress of the United States in proposing an amendment to the Constitution of the United States, to stand as the fifteenth amendment thereto,

Respectfully report that they have had the same under consideration, and have directed me to report the same back to the the House, with the accompanying joint resolution, entitled

Joint resolution ratifying the proposed amendment to the constitution of the United States.

Recommending that the joint resolution do pass, and ask to be discharged from the further consideration of the subject.

G. W. SWIFT, Chairman.

Report accepted, and leave granted the minority of the committee to submit the following report:

The undersigned, minority of the committee on federal relations, to whom was referred a communication from the Governor, transmitting a concurrent resolution of Congress, submitting to the Legislatures of the several States an amendment to the constitution of the United States,

Respectfully reports that in his opinion it is not competent for this House to receive at this time, or to consider, the joint resolution reported by the majority of the committee, being entitled "Joint resolution ratifying the proposed amendment to the constitution of the United States," as more than fifty days of this session have elapsed. See art. 4, sec. 28, of the constitution of this State.

The claim made that the constitution of the United States is the supreme law of the land, and provides for its own amendment, does not affect the question, as nothing in that constitution prescribes the time when a State Legislature shall act; and it would seem that it might be left with greater propriety for ratification or rejection to a future Legislature, elected by the people with the subject in view.

Since the adoption of that provision in our present constitution, some ten years have elapsed, and each succeeding Legislature has confirmed the precedent first established, that under that instrument no new bill, (which includes joint resolutions by all precedents,) can be introduced after the first fifty days of the session, counting all days intervening from the first, in the same manner as they are counted on the pay-roll of members. The mere change of name from "joint" to "concurrent" resolution, cannot affect the question, as the same object is attained. To allow this would be to avoid and defeat the express constitutional provision above referred to, and allow the introduction of new business, in defiance of the prohibition in the constitution, after fifty days of the session had passed.

It is now the fifty-ninth day of the session, and, in the opinion of the minority of your committee, the reception and consideration of the resolution reported by the majority is wholly illegal and unconstitutional, and all action thereon will be void and of no effect.

The undersigned further respectfully dissents from the propriety of ratifying the proposed amendments, if received by this House, for the reason, it is an encroachment upon the rights of the States, and of the people, reserved to them in the delegation of powers to Congress in the constitution of the United States, and tends to weaken and destroy the checks and balances wisely framed by the fathers of the republic, and designed by them, for all time, to protect the people of the Union in the enjoyment of their social and political rights, and the blessings of a free government.

The undersigned submits these views to the House, in the hope that, by their action, they will maintain our State constitution in its integrity, and refuse to receive or consider the resolutions reported by the majority of the committee, and ask to be discharged from the further consideration of the subject.

C. MILES,

Minority of Committee on Federal Relations.

Report accepted.

The joint resolution was read a first and second time by its title, and,

On motion of Mr. Ingersoll,

The rules were suspended, and the joint resolution was placed on its immediate passage.

On motion of Mr. Shier,

All further proceedings under the call were dispensed with.

The joint resolution was then read a third time, and pending the taking of the vote on the passage thereof,

Mr. Romeyn presented the following

PROTEST.

The undersigned, members of the House of Representatives of the State of Michigan, controlled by a sense of their imperative duty as representing the constituency of a considerable portion of this State, do most respectfully but earnestly and solemnly protest against the action of this House, in receiving on the fifty-eighth day of the session, and acting upon, the "Joint Resolution, ratifying the proposed amendment to the Constitution of the United States," and ask that this their protest, with the following reasons therefor, may be entered upon the journal of this House.

1st. Our State Constitution provides (Art. IV, Sec. 28,) "that no new bill shall be introduced into either House of the Legislature after the first fifty days of a session shall have expired."

The aforesaid resolution was first offered on the fifty-seventh day of the session, counting the same as established by the precedent action of all Legislatures since the adoption of the Constitution and by the pay-roll of the members, and reported from the committee fifty-nine days therefrom, and then first introduced into this House.

2d. The Constitution of the United States does not provide at what time State Legislatures shall act upon any proposed amendment, consequently it cannot be claimed that there is any emergency requiring our action. Besides, this Legislature was not elected with a view to action upon the proposed amendment, and cannot, in our opinion, in ratifying the same, properly claim to represent the constituency of this State, which, at a late vote upon a proposed Constitution containing similar provisions, rejected it by nearly forty thousand majority.

It therefore, as we respectfully urge, should not have been submitted to or acted upon by this House, but left to a Legislature chosen with reference thereto, the more especially, that a joint resolution to amend the Constitution of Michigan in regard to the question of suffrage has already been adopted by this House, and the ratification of the proposed amendment to the Constitution of the United States will take from our people the right to impose an educational electoral qualification, which has been agitated by both parties.

3d. The undersigned farther urge the inexpediency of the passage of those resolutions in any event.

Gradually and insidiously has the majority of the Congress of the United States encroached upon the reserved rights of the several States. First, under the plea of military necessity, and since, to preserve the domination of party; and while this amendment may be thought to be one in the cause of humanity, (which we neither admit nor deny, for the purpose of this protest,) yet we feel justified in protesting against it, and in earnestly warning our colleagues in this House, that this is but an entering wedge to still farther encroachments upon the rights of the people of the several States, heretofore thought to be safely protected by the Federal Constitution.

4th. If by the mere strength of political majorities, this amendment is fastened upon us, others will follow of perhaps more stringent character, until the consolidation of power in the General Government will be complete, and the States shorn of their right to legislate for their own internal welfare and interests.

5th. We dread the consequences to follow the adoption of this amendment, not viewing it alone as an entering wedge to others more odious.

Already are there among us "swarms of officers, to harass our people and eat out their substance." Throughout every town and hamlet, the United States Assessor and Collector are stationed, and have their deputies, spies and informers. Through all the land the Post Office employes of the General Government are scattered. Over the length and breadth of our common country are spread National Banking institutions, controlling, in a great measure, the finances of the nation from its nucleus and head, the Federal Treasury. And if to all those and more is to be added legislation by Congress under the second section of this amendment, we shall probably see registry laws and laws regulating elections at our own doors, enacted by a power we cannot reach or control. Officers under pay of the General Government, and only amenable to that government, will arbitrarily decide who may register and vote for President and Members of Congress, and for the State Legislatures which elect Senators in Congress, and so on, ad infinitum, our elections will be under the control of men not chosen by us, and by those means we may suffer the evils of those States called reconstructed, though not yet admitted, while by increase of officers, official corruption will increase, and our debt, undiminished but growing, ultimately bankrupt us as a nation, and reduce us to the alternatives of anarchy or despotism.

In conclusion, the undersigned feel it their duty to tender to the Hon. Speaker and the members of this House, with whom we have thus far so pleasantly associated and co-operated in the business of the session, our warmest thanks for their consideration and courtesy to the minority on this floor, by which no cause of discord has arisen among us. And we now, in presenting this our protest, with the request that it be entered upon the journal, do so with regret that anything should have occurred here to raise a question, seemingly of a political party nature, earnestly hoping that though raised, it will be transient and temporary, and peace and harmony prevail to our session's close.

Respectfully report that they have had the same under consideration, and have unanimously directed me to report the same back to the House, with the accompanying amendment, recommending that the amendment be concurred in, and that the bill, when so amended, do pass. the same pay and powers as other members, thus giving the city a representation of fifteen, instead of five, on said board.

The Legislative delegation from Kent county, after a full and very pleasant discussion of the matter, have unanimously requested this committee to recommend the above amendment, for reasons which it is unnecessary to state at length in this report, the main one being the impossibility of agreeing upon the bill as presented to the House.

By the committee on State affairs:

The committee on State affairs, to whom was referred

A bill for the establishment, endowment and support of the college of homeopathy, in the University of Michigan, and to repeal act No. 100, of the session laws of 1855,

Respectfully report that they have had the same under consideration, and have directed me to report the same back to the House, without amendment, and recommend that it do pass.

In stating the reasons that impel your committee to urge the adoption of this bill, they would briefly epitomize the leading and principal features of the bill under consideration: It provides, first, for the establishment in the Department of Medicine of the University of Michigan, a branch thereof, to be known as the College of Homeopathy in the University of Michigan, in which the theory and practice of homeopathy shall be taught by the necessary faculty, to be appointed and held under the control of the Board of Regents.

Secondly. An endowment, not less than seventy-five thousand dollars, and not exceeding two hundred thousand dollars, shall be paid into the treasury of the State, to be known as the "homeopathic college fund," the interest and income of which shall be inviolably appropriated and applied to the support of said college.

Thirdly. The State Treasurer shall credit to the said fund an interest at the rate of seven per cent., which interest shall be paid out of the general fund to the Board of Regents, and which interest, with all the sums received in fees, shall be applied to the support of such college.

Fourthly. The students regularly matriculated in such college shall have all the rights and privileges of students in the other departments of the University.

Fifthly. As soon as the sum of seventy-five thousand dollars shall have been contributed by the friends of such college, and actually paid in cash into the State treasury, to the credit of "the homeopathic college fund," the Board of Regents shall proceed to the erection of the necessary buildings for the use of the college, upon the grounds of the University at Ann Arbor, in such number and style as such Board may direct, and have the same completed and furnished for use at the earliest practicable moment, and at a cost not to exceed sixty thousand dollars, the said sum to be paid out by the State Treasurer to the order of said board, or their treasurer, in such installments, and from time to time, as may be required by the Regents.

Sixthly. The bill repeals the act of 1855, creating a separate chair in the University.

Your committee on State of affairs have not undertaken to investigate, determine or report upon the question of the relative merits of the systems of medical theory and practice to be affected by this bill. This question, they consider to be in no way involved in the proposition presented to the consideration of the Legislature by the bill submitted. The legislation demanded is neither a decision of the question of the superiority of one system over the other, nor the choice of either to be adopted by law as the "State system" of medical theory and practice, for the one is clearly beyond the constitutional competency of the Legislature, and the other is as clearly to be tried and determined before that tribunal whose decision alone can be of practical value to either contestant. The legislation asked for is simply to place both systems on an equal footing, in respect to the facilities afforded by the State for the professional education and training of physicians and surgeons.

At the time of the establishment of the medical department of the University of Michigan, one only of these systems obtained throughout the State, and it was, therefore, as a matter of course and of necessity, that the department was placed under the control of professors devoted to that system; since that time, however, the rival system of homoeopathy, based upon different principles, and pursuing other methods and means of cure, has gradually gained ground in public favor, until now nearly four hundred practitioners of the new system pursue their profession in this State, and have the care and medical treatment of nearly two-fifths of our population, composed, not of "the ignorant and credulous only," but embracing a very large proportion of the most cultivated, refined and intelligent of our people, who, after a trial of both systems, have adopted the theories, and prefer the practice of homeopathy.

The original establishment of the medical department of the University, as a part of our State system of education, was required and authorized only by the fact that the people, for whose benefit the University was founded and endowed, entrusted to physicians of the system there to be taught the care of their health and lives. Public policy, humanity and justice required that the people should be protected from imposition and unskillfulness in the profession, upon whose competency their lives, health and prosperity so largely depended; and hence the Legislature wisely and rightfully provided for the professional training of this class as a part of the educational system of the State.

As long as the people were content with this provision, and universally, or but with few exceptions, availed themselves of the benefits it was designed to secure to them, the Legislature had fully discharged its duty in respect to this great public interest; but now when the condition of things is entirely changed, when a new system of medical practice has been adopted, by nearly, if not quite two-fifths of the people of the State, new obligations arise from the change of circumstances.

To deny to the new system, and the very large number of our people who have adopted it, the protection afforded by the laws to the old system and its adherents, is to repudiate the very principle upon which the existing medical department was founded, and on which only it can be justified, and retained as a part of our public system of education.

If the establishment and support by State authority of the department of medicine in the State University was demanded and justified only by the fact that it was the duty of the State to protect its citizens, by the educational facilities it affords, from the ignorance and want of skill of those intrusted with the care of their health and lives, by what rule of logic or justice can the State now deny to a class of its people, more numerous than the entire population of the State when the University was founded, the same protection against ignorance and imposture on the part of those entrusted with the care of their health and lives?

Your committee believe that the State cannot rightfully or consistently disregard the claims of this large class of our people to the protection, rights and privileges now by law secured to the adherents of the old system, and they hold it to be the duty of the State to provide by law the same educational and professional training for homeopathic as for allopathic physicians.

To refuse this, is in fact, (and as effectually as the same object could be secured by positive legislation,) to adopt and establish the system now taught in the medical department of the University as "the State system" of medical theory and practice, and to proscribe the rival system as effectually as it can be done by statutory penalties and disabilities.

By the enactment of the bill submitted, the same rights and same privileges are secured to both systems—exclusive privileges and patronage granted to neither. No just or legal right of the existing medical department is taken away or abridged; the question of the superior claims of the one over the other to the support and confidence of the people is in no way affected or determined by the patronage or authority of the State, but each is left to contend for the mastery, on equal terms, in a fair trial of skill.

It has been urged that the establishment of a new medical school in the University will be fatal to the existence of the old department, to which we reply that this is merely a matter of opinion or conjecture—that the success of each must depend upon the learning, skill and prudence with which it is managed—and that the destruction of either can only occur when the other shall have fully and fairly won the battle of truth over.

error, and vindicated its right to life and the spoils of the conquered.

It has also been intimated that if the proposed new school be established, the present medical faculty will abandon the institution, and their department be broken up. To this, we reply, that however much we may deprecate the threatened calamity, we cannot admit it to be irreparable. The consequences could be but temporary only. Conceding to the present faculty all the merit claimed for them, it can hardly be doubted that in the contingency named, their places may be filled with gentlemen equally competent and equally devoted to the system they teach.

We submit further, that the reasons assigned for this proposed withdrawal seems to us in no way to warrant or justify the course proposed; but, if valid to this extent, they go further, and require those gentlemen to leave, not only the University, but the city, county, State or country in which homeopathy may be taught, or in which a homeopath may practice the profession of medicine. We submit further, that however cogent the reasons assigned, no consideration of any such action on the part of the employes of the State in any of its institutions can, consistently with the dignity and duty of the Legislature, be permitted to influence, far less control its action, upon questions affecting public or private rights, or the interests of the people.

By the provisions of the bill submitted, the principles and practice of homeopathy are to be taught in a branch of the University, at Ann Arbor, in a separate college, in its own buildings, by a full corps of professors in the different departments of medical science and practice, beyond the control of the existing medical department, but equally subordinate with that to the common government of the Board of Regents. This distinct and independent existence of the rival schools seems to your committee essential to the success of both, and will, it is believed, give rise to a vigorous and healthy competition, beneficial to both.

Your committee see no greater incompatibility between these two schools of medicine within the same university, than between the classical and the scientific departments, or between these and the agricultural departments and that of the mechanic arts.

The bill proposes to repeal the law of 1855, as useless in itself, and altogether superseded by the provisions of the proposed law. By the act of 1855, a professorship of homeopathy was created, and its incumbent was to be placed solitary and alone, in the midst of the camp of his professional opponents,—a single champion against a host of enemies, armed with all the weapons and advantages which numbers, power and patronage could give them. With such odds against him, his championship might have been illustrated by courage, but the wreath of victory could never have adorned his brow—his defeat was certain.

Had the faculty of the old school been as shrewd as they are zealous, they would have secured a cheap and easy victory, by promptly accepting and carrying out the provisions of the act of 1855. The infusion of so small a proportion of homeopathy into so large a mass of allopathy would have been ineffectual; the dose was homeopathic in quantity, but it lacked the essential requisite of "similia similibus." Homeopathy and its champion would both have disappeared together from the University, to trouble it no more forever.

Your committee further suggest that by the terms of this bill a large endowment may be secured for the proposed college from the friends of the new system, thus securing its great objects at but little cost to the State. That the new college will attract students to the University from all parts of the United States; that its institution as proposed will extend equal protection to all our citizens, and by this act of justice to all, the State will stand the just and impartial judge between the rival systems. We therefore earnestly recommend the passage of the bill, as a wise, just and beneficial measure, demanded.

alike by the interests of the University, sound public policy, and a just respect for the opinions and rights of all.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

The Speaker declared that two-thirds of all the members elect not having voted in favor of the passage of the joint resolution, it was not passed;

Mr. Miles appealed from the decision of the chair, on the ground that the joint resolution only required a majority of all the members elect to pass it.

The Speaker gave it as his opinion that no bills or joint resolutions of this nature should be passed without the assent of two-thirds of all the members of the House. Section 45 of Article 4 of the Constitution reads as follows: "The assent of two-thirds of all the members elected to each House of the Legislature shall be requisite to every bill appropriating the public money or property for local or private purposes."

In considering the point of order raised on the passage of this joint resolution, two questions naturally arise—

1st. Does the joint resolution appropriate the public money?

2nd. If so, is it for a local or private purpose?

The resolution reads as follows:

"Resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the State of Michigan, That the Auditor General be and he hereby is authorized and directed to draw his warrant upon the State Treasurer for all moneys which may from time to time, after the passage of this act, come into the State Treasury from the United States as five per cent. of the proceeds of the sales of all the public lands lying within this State, under the provis- ions of the act of Congress providing for the admission of the State of Michigan into the Union on certain conditions, approved June 25th, 1836," &c.

There can be no question but what the joint resolution does appropriate the public money, and as it appears from the statement of the Auditor General that the internal improvement fund is largely in debt to the general fund, it does, therefore, in effect, appropriate it from the general fund.

In considering the second question, it will be necessary to refer to the original act making the appropriation.

Section 2 of said act reads as follows:

"There shall be appropriated for the payment of all such work, for the improvement of the navigation of said river as contemplated by this act, the sum of fifty thousand dollars, to be paid from the internal improvement fund of this State."

Section 13 of said act reads as follows:

"No money shall be drawn from the general fund in the treasury of this State for this purpose, nor shall the State be responsible, or held liable, for any contract growing out of this improvement, except as herein otherwise provided."

The object of the work was to construct a ditch, or channel, through the sand flats of the Muskegon river, so as to enable the people of that locality to float logs and lumber through the same; and, as was stated in the act, "for the improvement of the navigation of said river."

It is evidently the meaning of the Constitution that all works of this nature should be considered local in character; but if there is any doubt on this point, it is clear and admitted by all, that the contract under which the work was constructed was rendered unconstitutional, for the reason that it was let to a member of the Legislature; hence became null and void, and could have no binding force upon the State; the claim, therefore, becomes private in its character. In regard to the correctness of this conclusion, it would seem there can be no doubt, and the precedents seem to sustain this view. The House of Representatives in 1861, passed a joint resolution for the payment of this same claim in swamp lands, the Speaker ruling, and the House sustaining him, that it required a two-thirds vote to pass the joint resolution. If it required a two-thirds vote to appropriate the public lands to pay this claim, how can it require a less vote to appropriate the public money for the same purpose? This is a question upon which members of this House honestly differ, and upon which all legal gentlemen do not agree. If there is a doubt, it seems to be but just that the tax-payers should have the benefit of that doubt.

The question being, "Shall the judgment of the Chair stand as the judgment of the House?"

Mr Brownell demanded the yeas and nays.

The demand was seconded, and the decision of the chair was not sustained, by yeas and nays as follows:

Respectfully report that they have had the same under consideration, and have directed me to report the same back to the House, without amendment, and recommend that it be referred to the committee on the judiciary, and ask to be discharged from the further consideration of the subject.

B. W. HUSTON, JR., Chairman.

Report accepted and committee discharged.

On motion of Mr. Baxter.

The House concurred in the recommendation of the committee, and the bill was referred to the committee on the judiciary.

By the committee on public lands:

The committee on public lands beg leave to submit the following report, showing the amount of swamp lands granted to the State by Congress, the amount that has been sold, appropriated and selected as homesteads, and the balance remaining unappropriated for future use in drainage and reclamation, in accordance with the terms of the grant:

The number of acres in the original grant was 5,891,588.34. In order to find the amount remaining on hand, in the Lower Peninsula, of these lands, it will be necessary to deduct, in the first place, the amount of swamp lands in the Upper Peninsula from the original grant, and from the amount remaining take the number of acres sold, selected for homesteads, and appropriated for various purposes, and the balance, if any, will show how much remains unexpended and unappropriated. There was, in the counties of Chippewa, Delta, Houghton, Keweenaw, Mackinac, Marquette, Menominee, Ontonagon and Schoolcraft, being the counties comprising the Upper Peninsula, 2,627,158.38 acres. Deduct this amount from the sum total of the original grant, to wit: 5,891,598.34, and it will leave a remainder of 3,264,439.96 acres, being the amount of the original grant in the Lower Peninsula.

There has been appropriated from these lands in the Lower Peninsula, many of which appropriations are not yet expended, according to tables four and five of the report of the Swamp Land State Road Commissioner, for the purpose of constructing roads and bridges, the sum of $2,643,775 00, and for ditches and miscellaneous purposes, the sum of $365,247 80, making the total amount expended in the Lower Peninsula for all purposes, $3,000,022 80, which reduced to acres at $1.25 per acre, would be 2,407,217 acres; deducting this sum from 3,264,437.96, the number of acres originally granted to the State in the Lower Peninsula, and we have a balance of 857,220.96 acres on hand. It will be remembered that the report of the committee on public lands in the Senate states the amount of lands remaining in the Lower Peninsula to be less than 100,000 acres; this result, however, was based by the Senate committee wholly upon the statement of Mr. Curtis. Your committee, however, have been wholly unable to find any such result, and either the Swamp Land State Road Commissioner or your committee must have made some great errors in their computations.

It must be remembered that in tables four and five of the Report of the Swamp Land Road Commissioner is included, or intended to be included, with the exception of a few slight errors, the whole amount that has been expended, either in lands or money, of the grant for any and all purposes whatever.

There must be deducted from the 857,220.96 acres above mentioned, the lands selected under the homestead acts. The total amount of such selection, as near as your committee has been able to ascertain the same, is about 225,000 acres in the Upper and Lower Peninsulas. Large amounts of this land have been abandoned, and your committee are of the opinion that the number of acres selected as homesteads in the Lower Peninsula, and that have not been abandoned, will fall short of 200,000 acres, but in order to be safe, they have deemed it best to call it 200,000, which will leave still a balance of 657,220.96 acres. It will be seen, by reference to Mr. Curtis' report, above referred to, that he estimates for expenses of survey and local commissioners' fees $383,081 04, which is equivalent to 306,464 84 acres, at ten shillings per acre. Mr. Curtis, since making the report above referred to, has informed your committee that five per cent. would cover the whole expense; that he had come to this conclusion upon a careful examination of the whole matter, which will reduce the number of acres for expenses to 153,232.42. Deducting this amount from 657,220.96, leaves a remainder of 503,988.54 acres. It has been almost the universal custom for the boards of supervisors to pay the expenses of the surveys and local commissioners' fees on the roads running through their respective counties, and we are of the opinion that the amount that has been paid for this kind of services is trifling indeed, and that pretty much the whole of the amount estimated for expenses is still on hand; but believing it best to be safe, and feeling conscious that the Legislature should use great care not to create any liability against the treasury, your committee have deducted the same.

Your committee are of the opinion that Mr. Curtis has made one other error in addition to his estimate for expenses which is this: There has been sold of these swamp lands some 450,000 acres, this Mr. Curtis deducted from the amount of lands, and treats it the same as so much lands expended, and adds it to his grand total, as shown by table five of his report. Now it must be remembered his report assumes to show the whole amount expended and appropriated for all purposes whatsoever. If this is true, then the products of this 450,000 acres has entered into his computation, and forms a part of his grand total of 2,407,217 acres, and should not be again taken into the amount. On the other hand, if these receipts for the sales of these 450,000 acres are not included in the expenditures above referred to, the money should be in the treasury, and as these lands sold from $1 25 to $7 00 and $8 00 per acre, there should be in the swamp land fund over a half million dollars in the treasury. We understand the amount in the treasury is about $225,000, and we have no doubt the balance has gone into the various items mentioned by Mr. Curtis' report. If it has not, then it must be a loss to the State, if it has not been expended and is not in the treasury. Of the lands still remaining in the Lower Peninsula, there are 140,000 acres, a large proportion of which is valuable for its timber; in fact, it is among the most valuable pine lands in the State. A bill has been introduced into the Senate graduating the price, and bringing the same into market. It is thought safe to say $3 50 per acre can and will be realized for this tract, which will equal 392,000 acres at $1 25 per acre, as the 140,000 acres is included in the 866,908.58 acres above mentioned. The same should be deducted from the 392,000, which will leave 252,000 acres, at $1 25, or what is equivalent to the same, add this amount to the 503,998.54 and we have remaining on hand, unappropriated, of the original grant, what is equivalent to 753,998.54 acres, at ten shillings per acre. We are confident it cannot fall short of this amount, feeling certain that the deduction of 153,232.42 for expenses is altogether too large, as those expenses have generally been paid by the counties, and we think our estimate too high under the Homestead act. Also some of these lands that are estimated by Mr. Curtis at $1 25 per acre sold above that figure; and as his estimates are all based upon the minimum of $1 25, it will be seen that his grand total will exceed the amount actually expended. Your committee deemed it proper to place the above facts before this House, at this time, in order that those interested might investigate the same. It must be evident that large appropriations of lands, and money derived from their sale can be made without incurring any danger of creating any liability against the treasury. Your committee are of the opinion that a careful and thorough investigation will increase, rather than diminish, the conclusion at which your committee have come. The Legislature, however, must not forget that quite a large amount of the lands remaining unappropriated are nearly worthless, and if appropriations are to be made this fact should be kept in view. It is to be regretted that the books and records in connection with this swamp land grant should have been kept with so much negligence, and want of proper care, as it seems they have been.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

B. W. HUSTON, JR., Chairman.

Report accepted and committee discharged.

By the committee on roads and bridges:

By the committee on the Asylum for the Insane:

The committee on the Asylum for the Insane, to whom was referred so much of the Governor's message as relates to that institution, and who were authorized, with a like committee from the Senate, to visit the asylum as a joint committee, have performed the duties assigned them, and have directed us to make the following report:

The polite and gentlemanly officers of the institution conducted us through every portion of the asylum proper, and also of the outbuildings. We found everything in perfect order; in fact, order and cleanliness seems to be the rule throughout the asylum.

There is an appearance of quiet and comfort among the patients that is surprising, and which would lead one to think that it was a quiet and comfortable home for invalids, rather than an asylum for that most terrible of all diseases, insanity. This is partly owing, no doubt, to the many sources of amusement provided for them, and which must also greatly conduce to their restoration to health.

It is hardly necessary to say anything further in regard to the management of that humane institution. With Dr. Van Deusen as its superintendent, it has become the model institution of the country, and we should all feel a pride in our worthy superintendent, who stands equal to, if not ahead of all his profession.

But comment and ceremony are unnecessary to convince you that the management and objects of this institution are worthy of your highest consideration, and that all money asked for to improve and maintain said asylum will be well expended.

For a detailed statement of the conditions and wants of the asylum, we refer you to the report of the superintendent and trustees, recommending that such appropriations be made as may be reasonably necessary to enable its officers so to manage its affairs as that it may realize the just expectations of those who so nobly provided, in the very infancy of our State, for the comfort and care, if not the ultimate cure, of those unfortunate ones who, from whatever cause, had become bereft of their reason.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

COMMUNICATIONS FROM STATE OFFICERS.

The Speaker announced the following:

MICHIGAN STATE LAND OFFICE, }
Lansing, March 9th, 1869. }

To the Hon. House of Representatives :

GENTLEMEN: I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of a copy of the following resolutions, to-wit:

Resolved, That the Commissioner of the State Land Office be requested to report to this House the number of acres of State swamp land that has been selected as homesteads, and sold under the act of 1858, upon part payment, giving the amount of each, separately;

Resolved, That the Commissioner of the State Land Office be and he is hereby requested to transmit to this House information upon the following subjects, to wit:

1. Does section 16, in town 54 north, of range 34 west, belong to this State?

2. Was not said land within the mineral range, so called, and reserved from sale by the laws of this State?

3. If said land has been sold, by what authority was it done; who was the purchaser, and for what price, and upon what terms was it sold? and any and all particulars in regard to the sale and transfer of said land within his knowledge;

In the absence of the Commissioner I would respectfully submit the following:

1. Total number of acres sold for cash as shown by reports to Dec. 1st, 1868,..... 448,568.68

Total number of acres licensed, as shown by reports to Dec. 1st, 1868,..... 242,681.75

Total number of acres,..... 691,250.43

2. On the 8th day of October, 1867, Simeon Mandelbaum, of Wayne county, Michigan, applied to purchase, with cash, the entire section 16, town 54 north, range 34 west. Said description of land showed on the plat books of this office to be vacant State land, and was accordingly sold to said Simeon Mandelbaum, he paying cash for the same, four dollars per acre, and a State patent for the above described land was issued to said Mandelbaum at the same date. Subsequent to the sale being made to said Mandelbaum, it was found to be mineral State land, and had been so reserved and held by the State; but the plat book not showing the reservation, the error was made in thus selling the land. Since the date of purchase of this land, by proclamation of Gov. Crapo, the sale was declared canceled, and patent demanded to be surrendered, and it is so noted on the plat book in this office. The patent has not yet been surrendered, and I am informed that the Commissioner has instituted a suit at law to obtain the patent.

Very respectfully,

E. H. PORTER,

Deputy State Land Commissioner.

On motion of Mr. Miles,

The communication was referred to the committee on public lands.

The Speaker announced the following:

Hon. J. J. WOODMAN, Speaker of the House of Representatives of Michigan:

SIR—I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of the following resolutions passed by the House on the 8th inst.:

Resolved That the Swamp Land State Road Commissioner be requested to report to this House, with all convenient speed, the amount of money that has been paid for surveys of State roads, and how much on each road; also, how much has been paid to local commissioners for their services, and to whom, and on what road;

Resolved, That the Swamp Land State Road Commissioner be requested to report to this House the number of acres of land in the original grant of swamp lands by Congress to this State; what part of the same are in the Upper Peninsula, and what part in the Lower Peninsula, and the counties in which the same are located; also the aggregate amount in acres that have been expended and appropriated, either in land or money, for the purposes of building roads and ditches in this State, since such grant was made, as appears from the books, records, files, contracts or other documents in his office;

In response, I have to say: There are no data in my office which enable me to report the facts called for in the first resolution. I believe those items of information can only be obtained from the Auditor General's Office, by an examination.

QUARTERMASTER GENERAL'S OFFICE, }
Detroit, March 9, 1869. }

Hon. J. J. WOODMAN, Speaker of the House of Representatives, Lansing:

SIR—I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of a copy of a resolution adopted by the Legislature on the 6th inst., as follows:

“Resolved, That the Quartermaster General of this State be requested to inform this House, whether from present calculation it appears that the quota of this State, of the first 300,000 of the 500,000 call of February 1, 1864, was filled on the 5th day of February, 1864, in case the credits at large, together with local credits and the credits of veterans reënlisting in the field, of this State, prior to that date, had then been properly and fully applied."

In answer, beg leave to state, that from a recent calculation, I am satisfied, if the credits at large, together with local credits and the credits of veterans reënlisting in the field, of this State, prior to February 1, 1864, had then been fully applied, that the quota of the State on the 300,000 call would have been full on the 5th February, 1864.

Respectfully yours,

FRIEND PALMER,

Quartermaster General.

Pending the announcement of the vote,

Mr. Avery moved that Mr. Mason be excused from voting;

Which motion did not prevail.

Mr. Mason then voted as recorded above.

Mr. J. A. Williams moved that Mr. Sanford be excused from voting;

Which motion did not prevail.

Mr. Sanford then voted as recorded above.

The title was agreed to.

On motion of Mr. Rowlson,

By a vote of two-thirds of all the members elect, the bill was ordered to take immediate effect.

Mr. Huston moved to discharge the committee of the whole from the further consideration of House manuscript bill, entitled

A bill to provide for the laying out and establishing a State road from the village of Harrisville, in Alcona county, to intersect the Midland, Houghton Lake and Traverse City road;

Which motion prevailed.

Mr. Huston moved that the bill be placed on its immediate passage.

Mr. Cogshall rose to a point of order, that it was not competent for a committee to report a substitute for a bill referred to them, under a particular title, which subject was entirely irrelevant to the subject matter embraced in the title. That a bill so reported is clearly a new bill, and is not admissible under section 28 of article 4 of the constitution, which provides "No new bill shall be introduced into either House of the Legislature after the first fifty days of a session shall have expired."

The Speaker ruled that he had no control over the action of a regular committee of the House on a subject matter referred to them. That it was competent for a committee of the House to amend a bill as they saw fit, and then it was in the power of the House to concur or non-concur in the action of the committee when reported to the House. It is within the province of the House to decide, at this time, whether they deem the action of the committee proper or improper.

Mr. Cogshall moved that the further consideration of the bill be indefinitely postponed;

Which motion did not prevail.

The motion to place the bill upon its immediate passage then prevailed.

The bill was then read a third time, and pending the taking of the vote on the passage thereof,

Mr. Huston moved to amend by inserting between the words

"the" and "laws," in line 2, of section 1, the word "session;" also, by inserting after the word "authorized," in line 4, of section 1, "on a vote of two-thirds of the stockholders interested;"

Which was agreed to.

The bill was then passed, a majority of all the members elect voting therefor, by yeas and nays, as follows:

Mr. Huston moved to amend the title so that it should read,

"A bill to authorize corporations formed for the purpose of running, driving, booming and rafting logs, timber, lumber and other floatables, to amend their articles of association, and to save all rights of such corporations."

Mr. Cogshall rose to a point of order about the competency of the House to entirely change the title of a bill, covering a different subject from that set forth in the title of the original bill introduced.

The Speaker ruled that he deemed it competent for the House to change the title of a bill as they saw fit, to express the object set forth in the bill as passed, expressing at the same time his doubt as to the constitutionality of such an act.

The motion to amend the title prevailed.

The title, as amended, was agreed to.

Mr. Huston moved that the bill be ordered to take immediate effect;

Which motion did not prevail.

On motion of Mr. G. G. Briggs,

Which motion prevailed, two-thirds of all the members elect voting therefor.

Mr. Millington, by unanimous consent, offered the following:

Whereas, Much time has heretofore been unnecessarily spent in lengthy debates; therefore,

Resolved, That hereafter, during this session, the time for delivering each argument or explanation by a member be limited to a period not exceeding five minutes, unless by unanimous consent of all the members present at time of discussing the same.

The resolution was laid on the table.

By the committee on the judiciary:

The committee on the judiciary to whom was referred House bill No. 143, entitled

A bill to organize the county of Wexford,

Respectfully report that they have considered the question which was referred to them for investigation, and ask leave to make the following report:

The question in regard to this bill is: Does it embrace more than one object, so that when passed into a law, it will be repugnant to the State Constitution?

The bill consists of thirteen sections. The first section organizes the territory of the present county of Wexford into a separate county, by the name of Wexford, and confers upon the inhabitants thereof the privileges, powers and immunities of inhabitants of other organized counties. The second section attaches the unorganized county of Missaukee to said county of Wexford, for municipal and judicial purposes.

The third section organizes certain congressional townships in said county of Wexford into a township, by the name of Hanover, and declares when and where the first township meeting therein shall be held, and names persons who shall be inspectors of election thereof. In each of sections four, five and six are found provisions similar to those of section three, creating the three townships of Wexford, Springville and Colfax. Section seven attaches certain territory to the township of Colfax, and section eight certain territory to the township of Hanover. Section nine locates the county seat. Section ten requires the election of county officers at the annual township election on the first Monday of April next, and defines their term of office.

Section eleven prescribes the time and place of making the county canvass of the votes cast at such county election. Section twelve attaches said county of Wexford to the thirteenth judicial circuit, and requires two terms of court each year. And section thirteen makes it the duty of the new register of deeds to keep two sets of records, one for Wexford county, and one for Missaukee county.

With the provisions, thus condensed, of the various sections of the bill, before us, we can better judge whether they conflict with section 20 of article 4 of the constitution which reads, so far as our present investigation is concerned: "No law shall embrace more than one object, which shall be expressed in its title."

Does the bill in question embrace more than one object? If it contained only the sections creating the new county, establishing the county seat, providing for the election of officers and the canvass of the votes, attaching the county to a judicial circuit, and requiring the Register of Deeds to keep books of record for the security of title, would any one have supposed that the bill, though filled with a dozen items in detail, had more than a single constitutional object, viz: the erection of a municipality, with powers complete and necessary for its individual existence? Or if each of the four townships was created by a separate act, which defined the time and place of holding the first annual township meeting, would any one have raised the constitutional question of duplicity? Or, even if those four townships in the same county were created by a single act, would the question have been raised? We think not. Such instances of legislation are of daily occurrence, and to put so rigid a construction upon language as the opposite view supposes, would hamper legislation, and require a multiplication of acts beyond all reasonable bounds.

Let it be taken for granted, then, that neither of the supposed acts would be unconstitutional, as embracing too many objects; let us examine each one to see if in its singleness it embraces enough of the constitution to be constitutional.

1. The first supposed act creates a county, with its county seat, county officers and county canvass of votes. But where are the townships in which the inhabitants shall cast their votes, for under the Constitution no person shall be entitled to vote unless he has resided ten days preceding the election in the township in which he offers to vote, Mich. Con., Art. 7, Sec. 1. The result is that all the electors of the county are disfranchised. Again, the county board of supervisors is to consist of one supervisor from each organized township, and one such board "shall be established in each county," Art. 10, Sec. 6. But if the law creating the county does not organize at least two townships therein, how will the township supervisors be elected, for they must be chosen in organized townships? And if they are not properly elected, how can there be a county board of supervisors, as required by the Constitution in each organized county? If there is no board of supervisors, the legislative functions of the county must cease. The power of taxation must lie dormant, for the want of the proper officers to enforce it. In fact there is no such county as the Constitution contemplates. Therefore it is an unconstitutional county. But being as perfect as the act created it, it follows that the act itself is imperfect, therefore unconstitutional; and unconstitutional for the reason of its singleness, instead of its doubleness, because, not that it did too much, but that it did not do enough. These points are more happily and fully dwelt upon by Justice Campbell in the case of the People vs. Maynard, 15 Mich. Rep., pp. 468-9, in which the Supreme Court unanimously held the "act to organize the county of Washington," approved Feb. 15, 1867, to be unconstitutional. The reporter's notes are as follows:

"An act purporting to organize a new county out of territory detached from an old one, but which contains no organized townships, and makes provision for none, is inoperative and void, as without such township there can be no legal elections, and no means of organizing." "A county cannot be organized without the means of exercising all its necessary functions, and requires more than one organized township, as the board of supervisors cannot exist without more than one member, and there can be no county without such a board."

2d. Each of the second supposed acts creates a township, and appoints the time and place of holding the first annual township meeting. Or, for the sake of brevity in the argument, suppose the four townships are created by a single act. You then have townships in existence; but where is the county organization, without which a township cannot have the ordinary political connection with the State? By all provisions of the constitution and of the statutes, the county is a municipality intermediate between the township and the State. The township is the primary or simplest political organization, and the State the highest and sovereign one. The State is an aggregation of counties, not of townships, and each county is a union of townships. Without a county organization the township could not well participate in a county, State or national election, and would, therefore, be virtually disfranchised. It could have no appellate court, nor court of common law jurisdiction; leaving the justice's court the supreme court for most purposes of litigation. It could bear no part of the burdens of the State taxation. We are, therefore, forced to the conclusion that each of the four supposed township acts, or the combined act, would be unconstitutional, for the reason stated in regard to the county act, that it is too single in its aim, and does not do enough.

"But," we may be asked, "can not the county act and the township act be passed separately, and avoid all question?" We answer that while neither would be constitutional alone, the courts would construe the two together as intending to accomplish a single purpose, viz: the perfect organization of a county. And we ask in turn that if they two accomplish a single purpose, why not include them in a single bill? Supposing either bill should pass and the other should fail, of what use would be the void legislation? Such an instance occurred in this House two years ago, and the result we have quoted from the 15th Mich. Rep., 468.

But are these objects so inconsistent as to be objectionable in the same bill? Our constitutional provision, above quoted, is well known. The constitution of Minnesota, Kansas, Maryland, Kentucky, Nebraska, Ohio and Pennsylvania provide that "no law shall embrace more than one subject, which shall be expressed in its title." Those of Michigan, Louisiana and Texas are the same, substituting the word "object" for "subject." Those of South Carolina, Alabama and California are similar. That of New Jersey provides that "to avoid improper influences which may result from intermixing in one and the same act such things as have no proper relation to each other, every law shall embrace but one object, and that shall be expressed in the title." See Cooley's Con. Lim., note 4, p. 141.

The Michigan Supreme Court, in the case of the People vs. Mahony, 13th Mich. Rep., p. 494, opinion by Justice Cooley, says: "The history and purpose of this constitutional provision are too well understood to require any elucidation at our hands. The practice of bringing together into one bill subjects diverse in their nature, and having [no necessary connection, with a view to combine in their favor the advocates of all, and thus secure the passage of several measures, no one of which could succeed upon its own merits, was one both corruptive of the legislator and dangerous to the State. It was scarcely more so, however, than another practice, also intended to be remedied by this provision, by which, through dextrous management, clauses were inserted in bills of which the titles gave no intimation, and their passage secured through legislative bodies, whose members were not generally aware of their intention and effect. There was no design by this clause to embarrass legislation by making laws unnecessarily restrictive in their scope and operation, and thus multiplying their number; but the framers of the constitution meant to put an end to legislation of the vicious character referred to, which was little less than a fraud upon the public, and to require that in every case the proposed measure should stand upon its own merits, and that the Legislature should be fairly satisfied of its design when required to pass upon it. See Board of Supervisors vs. Heenan, 2 Minn., 336. But this purpose is fully accomplished when the law has but one general object, which is fairly indicated by its title. To require that every end and means necessary to the accomplishment of this general object, should be provided for by a separate act relating to that alone, would not only be senseless, but would actually render legislation impossible." The police government of a city could not be organized without a distinct act for each specific duty to be devolved upon it, and these could not be passed until a multitude of other statutes had taken the same duties from other officers before performing them. And these several statutes, fragmentary as they must necessarily be, would often fail of the intended effect, from the inherent difficulty of expressing the legislative will when restricted to such narrow bounds.

The Supreme Court of Ohio says: "The provision that a bill shall contain but one subject, was to prevent combinations by which various and distinct matters of legislation should gain a support which they could not if presented separately,"—Prin. vs. Nicholson, 6 Ohio N. S. 179.

The Supreme Court of Louisiana, says: "Important general provisions were found placed in acts private or local in their operation; provisions concerning matters of practice or judicial proceedings were sometimes in the same statute with matters entirely foreign to them; the result of which was that on many important subjects the statute law had become almost unintelligible, as they whose duty it has been to examine, or to act under it, can well testify. To prevent any further accumulation to this chaotic mass, was the object of the constitutional provisions under consideration."—Walker vs. Caldwell 4 La. An. 298.

If such were the history and intent of this constitutional prohibition, we think we are prepared to say that the provisions of the bill before us are not so various and diverse, so foreign to each other and the general subject of the bill, nor such distinct matters of legislation, as to be excluded by the constitution from one bill. Especially in view of our previous examination of those separate provisions, do we believe that they all have so natural and necessary a connection, each one being indispensable to the life of the other, and wanting any one of which, the whole will be inoperative, that they can constitutionally be included in one bill.

While we would not quote legislative acts, similar to this bill, as authoritative precedent, we can refer to them as showing that bills in this form are not new nor uncommon. Act No. 78 of the session laws of 1863, to organize the county of Antrim, is similar to the bill under consideration; so are acts numbered 129 and 213 of the session laws of 1861. Nor would the Supreme Court of this State disturb those acts at this late day, whatever might have been its decision, had the question been raised immediately. (See 15 Mich. Rep., pp. 470 and 471; 19 N. Y., 41 and 20 N. Y., 447.)

In conclusion, your committee would respectfully but earnestly call the attention of the members of this House, to chapter 6, of "Cooley's Constitutional Limitations," and recommend its careful reading by all legislators. We might have extended quotations and authorities indefinitely, but instead, would refer to said chapter 6, in which will be found all necessary references.

Your committee would therefore report the said bill back to the House, without amendment, and unanimously recommend that it do pass, and ask to be discharged from the further consideration of the subject.

T. J. SLAYTON, Acting Chairman.

Report accepted and committee discharged.

By the committee on the Asylum for the Deaf, Dumb and the Blind:

The committee to whom was referred that part of the Governor's message in reference to the Michigan Asylum for the education of the Deaf and Dumb, and the Blind, would respectfully report that they have had the same under consideration, and have directed me to report:

That in order to become as fully acquainted as possible with the working and wants of this important Institution, your committee repaired to the city of Flint, on the 29th day of January, 1869, where a part of them remained several days, engaged in examining the Asylum buildings, and witnessing the exercises of the different classes. What your committee saw, convinced them of the wisdom and benevolence of the framers of act 13, section 10, of our State constitution, and of the people who ratified it, which reads as follows: "Institutions for the benefit of those inhabitants who are deaf, dumb, blind or insane, shall always be fostered and supported." Your committee are also convinced that the recommendations of our honored Governor, in his inaugural message, in reference to this Institution, are eminently wise, well considered, and should be carried out. The message reads as follows:

"The main or front building yet remains unfinished. The completed portions of the buildings are occupied to their fullest capacity, and it is believed that if the whole should be completed within the next two years, it would only accommodate the demands for admissions which are and would be made. The main front building should be finished as speedily as a due regard to a wise economy will allow."

The corner stone of this edifice was laid with appropriate ceremonies, July 15th, 1857, on which occasion Governor Kinsley S. Bingham, in his address, said: "It is peculiarly fitting and appropriate that we assemble here to-day to celebrate with honor and solemnity the commencement of an edifice which is designed to supply the enlarged wants of the State, for an institution already founded, in which, without performing miracles, the deaf have been almost made to hear, and the blind have nearly had their sight restored to them. The unfortunate class for whom we rear this edifice is justly entitled to our warmest sympathies, and we have the fullest confidence that the motives which have prompted our people to undertake this noble work will receive the hearty commendations of the good, both of the present and of future generations, and that the institution, whose foundations we this day lay, will diffuse the choicest blessings long after the actors in this scene shall have passed away. As this unfortunate class for long years to come are gathered here, we trust that knowledge of the most important kind, otherwise hidden, will be revealed to them—a knowledge of the world and its enjoyments, of themselves, of their relations to their fellow-men and to their Maker—knowledge which shall fit them for usefulness and happiness here, and which shall inspire them with the hopes and prospects of the christian for the future.”

The corner-stone bears this inscription: “1857. Erected by the State of Michigan. J. B. Walker, building commissioner. J. F. Johnson, foreman of mason work; R. Van Tiffin, foreman of joiner work.”

The Hon. James B. Walker, whose name is a synonym for all that is praiseworthy in connection with this enterprise, and for whose fame this institution is a suitable and appropriate monument, caused to be deposited in this corner-stone the following list of articles:

1st. A paper containing the date of the Act of Incorporation of the Michigan Asylums; names of the original board of trustees; of the board of trustees elected in 1853; autographs of the present trustees and other officers; of the foreman of mason work, and foreman of joiner work, &c.

25th. History and description of the Michigan Asylum for the Insane, by E. H. Van Deusen, M. D.

26th. A plate engraved as follows: "1857. This edifice is erected to facilitate the mental, moral and physical improvement of those unfortunate classes of the citizens of our State, which are deprived of the senses of speaking, hearing and seeing; and is a substantial evidence of the enlarged benevolence of 'the people of the State of Michigan,' as expressed by their Legislators and constitutional representatives."

This, then, is the noble edifice that we are called upon to complete, and your committee feel honored that they, without a dissenting voice, are permitted to be the channel through which comes the recommendation that the work be finished up.

These structures will stand when our bodies shall have crumbled into dust—stand, the monuments of the liberality of the State, monuments of the benevolence, and educational enterprises of Michigan. His Excellency, the Governor, further says, "In my judgment, there has hitherto been one serious deficiency in this institution. The lack of means or facilities for instructing pupils in such branches of labor or trade as would be suited to their condition, and as would enable them, upon leaving the Asylum, more readily to obtain a livelihood. Your committee are divided in opinion, in reference to this matter, but the majority of them believe it to be an essential part of the education of these unfortunates, and a part that has already been too long neglected. Whether the amount asked to be appropriated for this purpose, by the trustees of the Asylum, can be cut down without injustice to the pupils, we, as a committee, feel incompetent to decide, but would recommend the matter to the careful consideration of the House.

The amount needed for musical instruments, globes, maps and books for the blind may possibly seem large, but from all that your committee can learn, it is very essential. Lamartine has said that "music is the literature of the heart," and we believe this to be particularly true in the case of the blind. Dr. Fish, one of the trustees of the Asylum, eloquently says of the blind: "To them the beautiful light of Heaven shines not, flowers bloom not, charming landscapes delight not, and the smiles of friendship and love cheer not. They are blind. How dark the world seems. Their dull retina and sightless eyeballs can never be affected by any of earth's cheerful sights. They are shut up in rayless, endless, hopeless night. Now shall we not furnish them with every needed facility for improvement not only in the divine art of music, but in all the branches of study the acquisition of which is possible to them?"

The amount needed for current expenses for this institution for the ensuing two years is very large indeed, but your committee believe it to be no larger than is needed, and they are unanimous in recommending that the amount required by the trustees for this purpose, be appropriated.

Your committee are under many obligations to Prof. E. L. Bangs, principal of the Institution, for courtesies, kindness, entertainment and favors, which, only a gentleman in the true sense of the word, knows how to bestow. We believe him to be the right man in the right place.

What your committee saw, convinced them of the ability, zeal and fidelity of all the officers and teachers in the several departments of the Institution.

Your committee also desire to say that the matron, Mrs. Z. K. DeMott, we believe to be the right woman in the right place; and we also believe that her salary is not at all commensurate with the services rendered.

The number of pupils in the Asylum is 142; of which 118 are deaf and dumb, and 24 are blind. Of their proficiency in acquiring knowledge, and of their ability to communicate it, we would speak at length, but we confess that we are inadequate to do the subject justice.

All those members of the Legislature who were present at the Asylum February 26, 1869, and witnessed that copious and universal language displayed by Miss Annie Ferguson in rendering the beautiful poem entitled "Sheridan's Ride," will appreciate how impossible it is, with our meager, barren, written language, to adequately portray the beauty, poetry and eloquence of the language of signs.

The progress of the blind is equally remarkable with that of the deaf and dumb.

The trustees, by request of the committee, have presented the estimates for which appropriations are asked, and they are as follows:

For finishing the front building, with all fixtures complete,.....	$ 75,000 00
Portico and steps at each end of school building,.	1,000 00
Musical instruments, maps, globes and books for the blind,.....	2,500 00
Fencing, grading and making road,.....	5,000 00
Machinery, tools, stock and foremen in shops,....	15,000 00
Current expenses of the Institution for two years,.	75,000 00
Deficiency for expenses of last two years,.....	15,000 00
<hr/>
Total, .....	$188,500 00

Which motion did not prevail.

Mr. Blake then voted as recorded above.

Mr. McKernan moved that a committee of conference of three on the part of the House and two on the part of the Senate, be appointed to consider the disagreement between the two Houses on said joint resolution;

Which motion prevailed.

The Chair announced as such committee on the part of the House Messrs. McKernan, Millington and Eaton.

The Sergeant-at-Arms appeared before the bar of the House with Daniel Burns in custody, arrested and brought before the bar of the House for contempt, in pursuance of special order of the House of the 24th ultimo.

Mr. Ingersoll, by unanimous consent, offered the following:

Whereas, This House did, on the 24th ult., adopt the following preamble and resolution:

"Whereas, On Monday, February 22, 1869, one Daniel Burns, of Bay City, county of Bay, did receive from the chairman of the committee on banks and incorporations, and through the courtesy of the chairman thereof, said Daniel Burns received a bill entitled a bill to amend the charter of Bay City, and still retains the same in his possession; therefore,

"Resolved, That the Sergeant-at-Arms is hereby directed to bring the body of said Daniel Burns before the bar of this House to answer to the charge of contempt."

And, whereas, On the 4th inst., the chairman of the committee on banks and incorporations made to this House the following report:

"The committee on banks and incorporations would respectfully report in relation to the missing bill, entitled 'a bill to revise the charter of Bay City,' and the resolution adopted by this House, on the 24th of February last, directing the Sergeant-at-Arms of the House to bring the body of one Daniel Burns before the bar of this House, to answer to the charge of contempt in retaining said bill in his possession; that on the 1st day of March inst., said bill was found on the desk of the chairman, left there by some person, or in some way, to your committee unknown. Said bill has been considerably mutilated and changed in several important points since last in the possession of your committee, as they are informed by the gentleman who introduced said bill into this House."

And whereas, This House did thereupon make the following order:

"The Sergeant-at-Arms was instructed to bring the body of Daniel Burns to the bar of the House, as heretofore instructed by resolution of the House;"

And whereas, In pursuance of such instruction the Sergeant-at-Arms of this House has, by virtue of the power vested in him, arrested said Daniel Burns and brought him to the bar of the House for said alleged contempt; therefore,

Resolved, That said Daniel Burns be remanded to the custody of the Sergeant-at-Arms, and that a select committee of five be appointed, with instructions to prepare charges and specifications in writing for the use of the Chair in the case of the alleged fraud or contempt, and that the respondent have leave to employ and appear by counsel on the floor of this House;

Which was adopted.

On motion of Mr. McKernan,

The House took a recess until this afternoon at two o'clock.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

2 o'clock P. M.

The House met, and was called to order by the Speaker.

Roll called: quorum present.

Mr. Slayton asked and obtained leave of absence for himself, after to-day, until Tuesday morning.

Mr. Cogshall asked and obtained leave of absence for himself, after to-day, until Tuesday morning.

Mr. O. Clark asked and obtained leave of absence for himself, after to-day, until Monday noon.

Mr. Ternes asked and obtained leave of absence for himself, after to-day, until Tuesday morning.

SPECIAL ORDER.

The Speaker announced that the hour had arrived fixed by the House for the consideration of the special order, being the case of Daniel Burns, charged with contempt.

The special committee appointed to report an order of proceedings in the case, submitted the following report:

The select committee, to whom was referred the subject of the arrest of Daniel Burns, for alleged contempt of the dignity, and fraud upon legislative powers and action of the House of Representatives, respectfully recommend that the following order of proceedings in the trial of said Burns be observed, namely:

Said Daniel Burns shall be again placed at the bar of the House, and the Speaker shall cause to be read to the respondent the preamble and resolution adopted by the House this day, in regard to the arrest of the respondent, after which the Speaker of the House shall put to him the following interrogatories:

1. Do you admit or deny, that on the 22d day of February you procured, by false device, from the Hon. T. J. Slayton, a member of this House, and chairman of the committee on banks and incorporations, and one of the standing committees of the House, "A bill to revise the charter of Bay City," and carry away and retain, or cause to be retained, said bill, until on or about the 1st day of March following?

2. Did you not, within that time, and while contemptuously withholding said bill, or causing said bill to be withheld from said committee of this House, mutilate, or cause to be mutilated, in divers places, the bill so mentioned?

If the said Daniel Burns admit the charges, or answer these charges affirmatively, as propounded by the Speaker, then the House shall proceed to judgment thereon. But if said Burns deny such charges, or answer such interrogatories in the negative, or refuse or evade answering the questions propounded by the Speaker of the House, then such witnesses on the part of the House of Representatives as may be deemed expedient, shall be examined as witnesses, touching the matter of the accusations; after which the said Burns shall be allowed to introduce any competent evidence to his defense; and then any further evidence the House may direct shall be introduced.

If parol evidence be offered, the witnesses shall be sworn by the Speaker of the House, and examined at the bar, unless they are members of the House, in which case they may be examined in their places, and without being sworn. The committee shall examine witnesses, and the questions put shall be reduced to writing by a person appointed for that purpose before the same are proposed to the witness, and the answers shall be reduced to writing. Every question put by a member of the House, not of the committee, shall be reduced to writing by the member, and propounded by the Speaker, if not objected to; but if any question shall be objected to, or any testimony offered shall be objected to by any member, the member objecting and the accused, or his counsel, shall be heard thereon, and may be replied to by one of the committee; after which the question shall be decided without further debate.

When the evidence is all before the House, the said Daniel Burns shall be heard on the whole matter, by himself or his counsel, as he may elect; and after the said Daniel Burns shall have been so heard, he shall be directed to withdraw from the bar of the House; and the House of Representatives shall proceed to consider the subject, and to take such order thereon, as shall be deemed just and proper.

All of which is respectfully submitted,

JOHN N. INGERSOLL, Chairman.

On motion of Mr. Miles,

The report was accepted and adopted.

The special committee then took position on the floor of the House, as Managers on the part of the prosecution.

The respondent chose to appear in person, without counsel.

The Speaker charged the Sergeant-at-Arms to place the respondent at the bar of the House;

Which was done.

The Clerk then read, by order of the Speaker, to the respondent, the preamble and resolutions this day adopted by the House, in regard to his arrest.

The Speaker then proceeded to propound to the respondent the interrogatories contained in the order reported by the committee, as follows:

First Question—Do you admit or deny that, on the 22d day of February, you procured, by false device, from the Hon. Thomas J. Slayton, a member of the House, and chairman of the committee on banks and incorporations, and one of the standing committees of this House, “A bill to revise the charter of Bay City,” and carried away and retained, or caused to be retained, said bill, until on or about the first day of March following?

Answer by respondent—I deny the charge.

Second Question—Did you not, within that time, and while contemplating withholding said bill, or causing said bill to be withheld from said committee of the House, mutilate, or cause to be mutilated, in divers places, the bill so mentioned?

Answer by respondent—One place only, while in my possession.

The special committee then proceeded to the examination of witnesses, on the part of the House.

HON. THOMAS J. SLAYTON CALLED.

I think it was Monday, February 22d, or early in the week preceding the recess, while sitting at my desk in this Hall, some person introduced to me a person from Bay City. I think he called his name Burns. That gentleman wished to see a bill I had in my possession, entitled “A bill to revise the charter of Bay city,” as near as I can remember the title. I picked it from among the papers in my possession, as chairman of the committee, and handed it to him. I saw nothing further of the bill until the Wednesday after the recess, March 3d. I was absent March 1st. I did not return until Monday evening. Possibly I saw the bill Tuesday, but think not until Wednesday morning, when it was brought to me by Mr. Crossman, who said the bill had been found on my table, on the Saturday or Monday preceding. I believe on Monday. This is the bill, (producing the copy.)

Question.—Is this the person? (pointing to Mr. Burns.)

Answer.—I think it is. I cannot say positively, never having seen him before.

Question.—Was there more than one mutilation to the bill; if so, what were they?

Answer.—The outside leaf was torn in two and half of it was gone, so that the bill showed no outside title. I cannot state what alterations have been made in the body of the bill, for the reason we had not examined the inside of it after its introduction into the House and its reference to our committee.

Question.—Are there many places in the bill where there is a different hand writing?

Answer.—There are four interlineations on the 2d page, and as many erasures.

Question.—Does the alteration relate to the boundaries of the city.

Answer.—It does. There are three alterations on page 5 referring to the boundary of the city. An alteration on page 6, also, refers to the boundary. There is an alteration on page 7, section 3, striking out the election of city marshal. There are three other changes on the same page in different handwriting from the body of the bill.

Question.—Are all the interlineations in the same handwriting?

Answer.—I think they are. The interlineations in section 7, are making appointive "an attorney, a street commissioner, a director of the poor, a marshal." Before changed I should judge it to have read, "a street commissioner, a director of the poor."

Committee.—You may give the number of alterations contained in the bill in the same handwriting.

Answer.—I find nine others, as far as I have looked, being about half through the bill.

Question.—Did you make search for the bill, and is this the copy of the bill handed you by the Clerk in his official capacity?

Answer.—Think it is, but cannot be certain, the outside title being gone.

Question.—Did you make any search for the bill after letting Mr. Burns have it?

Answer.—I searched several times after lending the bill, and the time of the House taking a recess. On February 24, a member of the House, from Bay county, came to me, and with him, on that evening, I made a thorough search, and could not find it.

Question.—At the time you handed the bill to Mr. Burns, was anything said about handing it back or returning it?

Answer.—He was introduced to me as a gentleman from Bay City, and said he would like to look for a few minutes at a bill in my possession to amend the charter of Bay City.

CROSS-EXAMINED BY THE RESPONDENT.

Question.—Do you not know personally of this bill's having been in the hands of another person from Bay City, Mr. Grier, and that he put these interlineations in the bill himself?

Answer.—I am not acquainted with the hand-writing of Mr. Grier, and cannot say that they are his alterations. Nor do I remember of having lent him this bill for the purpose of alteration, or any other purpose. I think he looked at it in my presence, I holding the bill all the time. That is the best of my recollection.

Question.—Did not Mr. Grier, of Bay City, call upon you and say that he heard that the bill had been altered, and he desired to see what alterations had been made?

Answer.—I think he did.

Question.—I ask the witness to look at the bill again, and see if he cannot see three different hand-writings.

Answer.—I find two different hand-writings.

Question—Do you know whether the bill is not now in the same condition as it was at the time you handed it to me?

Answer—It is not.

Question—In what respect does it differ?

Answer—The half of the outside leaf is off.

Question—Aside from the half of the outside leaf being off, do you know of any change?

Answer—I do not.

Question by Mr. Miles.—Where did you keep the bill while in your possession? at your room, or on the floor of this Hall, under your desk, with other bills referred to your committee?

Answer.—On the floor of the Hall, at the end of my table, with other bills.

Question by Mr. Plimpton.—Do you know whether you gave the bill to the respondent, or to the other person who was with him?

Answer—I do not. To the best of my recollection, it was a gentleman about the size of Mr. Burns, and who was introduced to me as Mr. Burns.

Question.—Were you acquainted with the gentleman who introduced Mr. Burns?

Answer.—Was acquainted with him, but have forgotten who he was.

Question by Mr. Miles.—From your own examination of the bill, can you tell whether the alterations in the body of the bill were made before or after the bill went out of your possession?

Answer.—I cannot say when all the alterations were made, save one, striking off half of the outside leaf.

Question by Mr. R. V. Briggs.—Did you keep your papers at the end of your table all the time, during session hours and recess?

Answer—I did not. On the evening of February 24, after the adjournment of the House, I gathered up all the bills, petitions, and other papers referred to our committee, and locked up about half of them in the Clerk's desk, and the rest of them in the desk of the engrossing clerk, and took them from those places on my return, March 2d.

Question by Mr. Horton.—Did you state that you had not examined the bill before you let Mr. Burns have it?

Answer.—If I did not so state, it is the fact.

Question by Mr. Horton.—Then how do you know but that the interlineations were made before you received the bill?

Answer.—I have not said they were not made before I received it. I said one change had been made; that of tearing off the last leaf of the bill. That I know was made after the bill left my possession, and before it was returned again, March 2d.

HON. DANIEL L. CROSSMAN CALLED.

I first saw the bill with this title with the papers sent to the committee on banks and incorporations. Subsequently, at the solicitation of Mr. Westover, a member of the House, I went to Mr. Slayton's desk to get the bill, for the purpose of making an examination, and report upon it. The bill could not be found. Thinking that Mr. Slayton had made some disposition of the bill, I called upon him for it, as I have been in the habit of doing with other bills, being a member of that committee. Mr. Slayton informed me, that a short time previous he had handed the bill to a gentleman from Bay City, who desired to examine it. Subsequently, the evening of the same day, I examined all of the papers at or about Mr. Slayton's desk, to find the bill, as Mr. Westover was urging me to report upon it; but it could not be found. The following morning, I think, not being able to find the bill there, the resolution referred to was introduced into the House. Monday, after the recess, I again went to Mr. Slayton's desk, on other business connected with that committee, and found, rolled in a sheet of the House journal, this bill, (holding it in his hand.) Mr. Slayton was not in his seat, not having returned since the recess. I think the bill has been in my possession and knowledge, or rather, in my possession and that of Mr. Slayton, since that time. Few days subsequently Mr. Theophilus C. Grier, of Bay City, came before the committee, making inquiries relative to the lost bill, and, with Mr. Slayton, examined the bill found. He said that he found so many alterations he would not ask the committee to correct this bill, but as he had the original in his office from which this bill was drawn, another exact copy would be sent to the committee. I think on the next day, he placed in my hand a package from the express office, I judge, which I opened, and found to be a bill to amend the charter of Bay City, which, from comparison, I judge to have been an exact copy of this, before any alterations were made in it. That bill was reported by me to this House.

CROSS-EXAMINED.

Question by Mr. Hunt.—Did you examine the bill previous to the disappearance of the same, and were the alterations made previous to that time?

Answer.—In looking over the papers of the committee, I had noticed the bill several times, but had not examined the body of the bill before its disappearance. Had noticed the title of the bill.

Question by Mr. R. V. Briggs.—State what changes have been made in this bill, and the one reported by the committee?

Answer.—The principal changes which I noticed were: 1st, some changes as to boundaries; 2d, as to the office of marshal, which by the bill reported was an elective office, and by this bill as originally written, but as at some time subsequently altered by erasures and interlineations, was made appointive. I also noticed that in the section relating to the time in which all officers elective should qualify, it appears to have been originally written "ten days," but was altered to "ten years." In one other case, giving authority to suppress riots and dispose of drunkards, it was interlined with these words, as near as I can recollect, "except city officers." In my opinion, this bill and the one subsequently reported, were originally written by the same person. It is my opinion that there are interlineations in the bill in two different handwritings.

Question by Mr. Holt.—Have you ever had any conversation with Mr. Burns in regard to his wishes in regard to the provisions of the bill in question?

Answer.—I do not know that I ever saw Mr. Burns until to-day. Never had any conversation with Mr. Burns in regard to this or any other bill.

CROSS-EXAMINED BY THE RESPONDENT.

Question.—Has there been a bill reported by the committee as a substitute for this bill?

Answer.—As I stated, the committee reported another bill, not as a substitute, but as the original bill, believing that the one reported was an exact copy of the one introduced into this House.

Question.—In the present bill, section 1, as it now reads, does it not exactly correspond, including the interlineations, with the bill as reported by the committee to the House?

Answer.—I think that it varies in relation to some disputed territory between Bay City and Portsmouth. I may not be correct in this, but that is my opinion.

Question.—Do you know the hand-writing of T. C. Grier, of Bay City?

Answer.—I do not.

Question.—Have you in your possession any of his hand-writing?

Answer.—I think not.

Question.—In what respect does the bill you reported differ from this bill, to your knowledge?

Answer.—As to the office of marshal, and the other differences previously named, and many other points.

Question.—Are there not two sets of interlineations in the bill?

Answer.—I stated in answer to another question, that I thought there were interlineations in two different hand-writings, and I think so still.

Question.—Are not all the interlineations as they now stand, all in one hand-writing?

Answer.—I think they are not.

HON. SAMUEL W. YAWKEY CALLED.

On Monday, the 22d of February last, I took the train at East Saginaw, on my way to Lansing. I met Mr. Burns on the train. We arrived at Lansing at 11 o'clock; came up to the House, which had just adjourned. Mr. Burns came to me with a list of the standing committees of the House, and asked me what reference the charters have—to what committee? I answered, to the committee on banks and incorporations. He asked me if the chairman of the committee was in the Hall. I stated he was, and was in his seat, and pointed out Mr. Slayton to him. I think about half an hour afterward I met Mr. Burns at the Lansing House. He, and another man with him, were coming down the stairs together. The gentleman with Mr. Burns had a pen in his hand, and Mr. Burns had the bill. He did not say it was the bill. The copy mutilated, I think, is the same bill which Burns had.

Question.—Do you know Mr. Grier's hand-writing?

Answer.—I do not.

Question.—Can you tell in whose hand-writing the interlineations are?

Answer.—I cannot.

Question.—Do you know who the man was with Mr. Burns?

Answer.—Mr. Becker, formerly marshal of Bay City.

CROSS-EXAMINED BY THE RESPONDENT.

Question.—Was this the bill Mr. Burns had? (showing the bill.)

Answer.—It was.

Question.—How did you recognize it?

Answer.—By the title, which was not then torn off.

HON. LUTHER J. WESTOVER CALLED.

The bill was sent to me. When it came, it came by express. I undid it and commenced running over the bill hastily, and noticing some portions of it. In so doing I did not notice any interlineations in it. After doing that, I presented it to the House, supposing it would come before the House regularly, and paid no more attention to it. That is about all I know personally about the matter. I undertook to find the bill, and found Mr. Burns had borrowed it. Think the mutilated bill is the one I presented to the House. Think if the interlineations were in the bill when I first looked at it, I should have noticed them. Saw none, however, when I looked at it. Mr. Grier got the bill, and I went with him to the committee room to examine the mutilations. Know the first interlineations are not in Mr. Grier's handwriting.

Question by Mr. R. V. Briggs.—Do you know the handwriting of Mr. Burns? Are the interlineations in his handwriting?

Answer.—I do not know Burns' handwriting. As the bill passed the House the marshal is to be appointed. Was not here when Mr. Burns was first here.

Question by Mr. Purcell.—Had you read the bill with sufficient care to point out any of the interlineations?

Answer.—I think I had. I run over the bill hastily, and think if all the interlineations were in it I would have seen them, or some of them, at least.

Question by Mr. Horton.—How soon after you received the bill did you introduce it into the House; and was it in your possession all the time after you first received it until you introduced it?

Answer.—It was in my possession all the time, in my desk, until I introduced it; think I introduced it the next day after receiving it.

Question by Mr. Yawkey.—Did Mr. Becker call upon you, at your house in Bay City, about changing the election of marshal?

Answer.—He did. I think the interlineations are not in Mr. Grier's hand writing.

CROSS-EXAMINED BY THE RESPONDENT.

Question.—Have you examined this bill to see how it now stands, as to the office of marshal?

Answer.—I have not. (Examines the bill.) The section as the bill now stands, makes it appointive, and was originally so.

Question.—Was not that as the original bill read?

Answer.—It was. This interlineation was put in here when this bill came back to this House, and was not as it was when introduced.

Question.—In reading the first section of this bill, as to boundaries, does not this bill now read as the one does that has passed the House?

Answer.—If it does not read so, I do not think Mr. Burns made any alteration in that part of it. The bill, as passed, in this respect, was altered after it came here—in regard to disputed territory.

Question.—Do you know, of your own knowledge, of this bill being at Bay City since March 1st?

Answer.—I do not.

N. B. JONES, CLERK OF THE HOUSE, CALLED.

Question.—Have you ever seen this bill before? (Mutilated bill shown.)

Answer.—Have seen this bill, or one like it, in the same hand-writing. It was introduced into the House by Mr. Westover, of Bay county; was read a first and second time, and referred to the committee on banks and incorporations, and was sent by me to the committee. If this is not the same bill introduced into the House by Mr. Westover, it is one just like it, in the same hand-writing. I opened the bill while it was in my hands, and know the interlineations on the first page were not in the bill when first introduced. Am positive about this. Some of the interlineations are in the hand-writing of Mr. Grier, in my opinion. Have some of his hand-writing before me, and think some of the interlineations in the bill are in his hand-writing, or resemble his writing very closely.

HON. JOHN N. INGERSOLL CALLED.

I met Mr. Burns about the 20th of February, in the cars between Owosso and this city, and he introduced me to a man whose name, I think, was Becker. He stated his principal object was to get an amendment to the bill that had been introduced to amend the Bay City charter, making the office of marshal elective, instead of appointive. I told him that, as a general thing, the charters were being altered, making the office of marshal appointive, where they had heretofore been elective. He wanted me to assist him. I told him that I was opposed to the principle of electing marshals, and so expressed myself to him. The next day (I think it was the next day) I met him in the outer hall. He told me he wanted to get hold of or see the bill amending the Bay City charter. I told him he could get it from the chairman of the committee, if the bill had gone to the committee. He said it had, but he did not know the chairman. I told him he could get it from the chairman, if the chairman would let him have it. He said he did not know the chairman, and wanted me to introduce him. I told him Mr. Westover would probably get it for him. By that time we had got in the door of this hall. He or I looked over to where Mr. Westover sits. The House was not in session. I think he told me he did not want Mr. Westover to get it, from which I inferred there was some personal feeling between them. I told him Mr. Yawkey, or Mr. Lane, would go with him. It would look better to have a man from that section of country. We then parted. I think I left him standing there. I think it was that afternoon,—it might have been next morning, or next day,—I asked him if he had seen his bill, or got his bill; he smiled, and said "Yes, I have got it." I think this was in the outer hall, the next day, or in the afternoon of the same day, that I first met him in the outer hall of this House.

MR. R. V. BRIGGS CALLED.

Question.—Mr. Briggs you will please state what you know of the interlineations.

Answer.—I think it was sometime about the fifth or sixth of March; it was about that time, I am not positive as to the date; it was in the afternoon, if my recollection serves me right. I was in the committee room, Mr. Grier from Bay City was in there; a gentleman whose acquaintance I had formed but a few days before that, and he was writing at the table that stands in the corner of the room. He called my attention to what he said was the Bay City charter. This I suppose to be the same bill—the bill here in question. He stated it had been returned to the House a few days before that. He sat at the table and he remarked to me that he was correcting the Bay City charter that had been taken away from the House. I noticed interlineations, and that they are in the hand-writing of Mr. Grier I am satisfied, as I hold in my hand a paper which he wrote, and on comparing the two they look very much alike.

Question.—Were there any other interlineations in Mr. Grier's hand-writing, other than such as would make it read as the original bill read?

Answer.—I am unable to say what the appearance of the original bill was. I can say it appears to me there are two different hand-writings; one interlineation in a hand I could not identify, and another like the hand-writing of Mr. Grier, which appears to be the second interlineation in the bill.

Question.—Did you see the erasure of the word "marshal?"

Answer.—I will state one thing further: Mr. Grier stated at the time, he was "correcting the bill introduced into the House by Mr. Westover." I think he used these exact words. He said "that the bill had been mutilated; had been taken from the House, and he was making it conform to the bill introduced by Mr. Westover."

CROSS-EXAMINED BY THE RESPONDENT.

Question.—Was any other person with Mr. Grier when he had that bill?

Answer.—No one but myself. I remained in the room five or ten minutes.

Question.—Could you state how long he had that bill in his possession?

Answer.—I could not.

Question.—What did he say to you?

Answer.—All I think he said to me was, that he had just taken the bill to correct it. That is all. He made that statement at the time he had it.

Mr. Ingersoll, addressing the respondent, "Have you any more evidence of your own?"

Respondent.—Yes, sir. I ask that the chairman of the committee on banks and incorporations be re-called.

HON. T. J. SLAYTON RE-CALLED.

Examination by the respondent.

Question.—Have you, in your capacity as chairman of the committee on banks and incorporations, allowed any person to alter that bill since the first day of March?

Answer.—I do not remember now, of giving such consent.

Mr. Ingersoll read the Rule:

"When the evidence is all before the House, said Daniel Burns shall be heard on the whole matter. He shall then be directed to withdraw from the bar of the House, and the House shall proceed to consider the subject, and take such order thereon as shall be just and proper."

DANIEL BURNS' DEFENSE.

The respondent spoke as follows:

Mr. Speaker.—On the twenty-third day of February I came to this city of Lansing. I arrived here about eleven o'clock, on the train from the north here. There was a gentleman on the train from Bay City, who is deputy marshal, and who has been marshal heretofore. I had business otherwise than in reference to this bill—business of my own. He said the charter before this House had a provision by which the marshal was to be appointive, instead of elective. We had some conversation as to the propriety of its being so altered. I came here and inquired for Mr. Westover, but Mr. Westover was not in his seat. I then obtained an introduction to the chairman of the committee on banks and incorporations. I inquired of him for the bill. The bill was handed to me. I told him I wished to look at it. I do not remember whether I stated to him that I wanted to make any alterations or not. I did state to some of the members, Mr. Ingersoll, Mr. Yawkey, and some others, the proposed change to be made. I obtained the bill, had the alteration made in reference to marshal. It read to be appointed; it was altered so as to be elective. The bill now reads as it originally read. Now, further than that, I did nothing. I may have had it (the bill) in my possession from twenty to thirty minutes, and then the bill was returned to the gentleman's table. I did not remain in the city only till the train went north again.

Now, in the mere fact of altering that bill, I did not suppose, the bill not being passed before the House, that I was doing wrong. I did not do it with the intention of showing contempt for this House, nor had I any intention to mutilate that document. Mr. Westover was notified by Mr. Becker himself. I presume Mr. Westover did not care about the matter. I did it to accommodate him (Becker.) I took it to make that alteration, but with no intention whatever to show any contempt for this House. I cannot say whether there was anything missing from it or not; I know I took nothing off. This is all that I have to state on this matter.

In reference to the interlineations of that bill, what I have to say is this: Mr. Grier is here in the city. My efforts to keep him straight, that he might make the explanation, were not successful. While I have been under the charge of the Sergeant-at-Arms, he has been under the charge of King Alcohol. He might have come here and made to this House the statement that he made the interlineations himself. I see they are all his handwriting. I am well acquainted with Mr. Grier's handwriting. Mr. Grier told me himself he made those alterations, and explained the alterations he did make in that bill; but he was beyond my control. I do not feel disposed to ask the House to fetch him here, under the circumstances.

With regard to contempt for this House, nothing was more remote to me than that. I am of opinion that the gentleman who made these charges, Mr. Westover, has never read that bill to know what alterations are made. The bill reads as the bill that passed to-day. The interlineations were put there to make it read as it passed; therefore, the interlineations were made to make it conform to the new bill. With these remarks, I have nothing more to say.

The respondent having closed the defense, he was conducted from the hall by the Sergeant-at-Arms, pursuant to the order adopted.

Mr. Ingersoll moved that that portion of the order adopted, requiring the respondent to retire from the hall during the arguments in the case, be suspended, and that the respondent be re-admitted to the hall;

Which motion prevailed, and the respondent was brought again to the bar of the House.

On motion of Mr. Ingersoll,

The arguments in the case before the House were ordered taken down by Mr. Clubb, short-hand reporter, and entered at large on the journal.

Mr. Ingersoll—The gentleman from Tuscola will now address the House.

Mr. Huston said—Mr. Speaker, having had no time to prepare for this case, I do not propose to detain the House any great length of time. We have already spent nearly the whole afternoon in taking the testimony, and, I suppose, the only question for the House to determine will be whether the respondent is guilty of the accusation we have made against him.

The first proposition relates to the taking away of this bill and detaining it, and secondly, whether he had anything to do with the interlineations that were made in the bill. Now, I state this proposition right here, that when men are charged with crime, for instance the charge is made of murder: several persons may be guilty of the offense, although one has inflicted the blow or administered the poison that caused the death; those who countenanced, or took part, or advised, or who may be present, or encouraged those that committed the offense, are equally guilty.

Now, it makes but little difference in this matter whether Mr. Burns made the erasures in this bill or not. By the way, he admits he made one of them. But whether he made them or not, it makes but little difference. The evidence shows the fact of his taking the bill away; that he was the party who took it, there is no doubt. Mr. Slayton says he was introduced to him on the 22d of February; that he delivered the charter to him at that time. Mr. Ingersoll stated that he met him in the hall. Mr. Burns told him he had the charter. Then, we say, there can be no doubt of the fact that he took the charter away from this hall, and before it came back to the hands of Mr. Slayton it was altered and changed in various places.

I wish to remark right here, in reference to these interlineations, as there may be some dispute in regard to who did the writing, that I am acquainted with Mr. Grier's hand-writing. I have no doubt that part of these interlineations are in Mr. Grier's hand-writing; and you will find wherever Mr. Grier's hand-writing appears, there is also the hand-writing of somebody else changing it from what it originally was. Mr. Grier made his interlineations in the committee room, after the bill came back. This bill was first drawn in Mr. Grier's office. When the bill came back into his hands, he simply erased the interlineations made by Mr. Burns, or somebody else, and re-wrote the bill as it was made before it was changed. This corresponds with the testimony of the gentleman from Wayne. You will find in every case where there has been a word stricken out, that there are two hand-writings. One stands now, and the other interlineations have been erased, and the bill reads as it did before any erasures were made in it. Then, that states this part of the question as it seems to me. For instance: You have in regard to the point as to the marshal. It was first made "elective," and then changed back to "appointive," and so on, all through the bill.

Here is a significant fact, which shows that Mr. Burns knew all about this matter. His first question was this: "Was the bill given to Mr. Grier for the purpose of making these interlineations?" Now, I want to know how he could know that, unless the bill had been placed in his hands? The fact is, Mr. Grier made these interlineations, and the object of the respondent was to make it appear that Mr. Grier made these interlineations with which he was charged, as shown by the gentleman from Wayne. The only interlineations made by Mr. Grier, were those he made after the bill had been returned to the committee.

Now, if I remember right, Mr. Ingersoll says that Mr. Burns told him he had the charter; and it is a fact that this charter was loaned to Mr. Burns on the 22d day of February, and it was not found in this House until the 2d day of March. For eight days it was somewhere; it was not on Mr. Slayton's desk. The evidence shows that the respondent took it away; that he had it in the Lansing House; that Mr. Becker was with him; that it had been in his hands, and perhaps the change was made by him, (Becker.) It makes no difference: the respondent is just as guilty as if he made the changes himself. As a point of law, and as a matter of fact, it is immaterial whether the respondent made the changes or not. No one can doubt that when these changes were made, the respondent thought it was in contempt of this House to make those alterations. I do not know why any gentleman can have such a supposition that this bill was merely borrowed for the purpose of seeing it. No evidence has been introduced to shew that he intended to make alterations; or that he borrowed the bill for the purpose of making those changes. Why did he keep it eight days from the committee on banks and incorporations? What was the respondent doing with it at the Lansing House? What business had this man to take the bill and carry it away, without the consent of this House? No man has any right to take away bills and files and records of this House without the consent of the House. There can be no doubt he had the bill at the Lansing House; that he had pen, ink and paper there. It seems to me this settles the whole question. There is no particular occasion to take any particular length of time in the discussion of this matter. The evidence seems so clear. I do not propose to detain the House with any lengthy remarks in regard to it.

I wish to call the attention of the House to the law in reference to cases of this kind. In the revised statutes of 1846, the Legislature has passed this law:

“ Each House may punish, as a contempt and by imprisonment, a breach of its privileges, or the privileges of its members, but only for one or more of the following offenses, to-wit:

“ 1. The offense of arresting a member or officer of the House or procuring such member or officer to be arrested, in violation of his privilege from arrest.

“ 2. That of disorderly conduct in the immediate view of the House, and directly tending to interrupt its proceedings.

“ 3. That of refusing to attend, or be examined as a witness, either before the House, or a committee, or before any person authorized by the House, or by a committee, to take testimony in legislative proceedings.

“ 4. That of giving or offering a bribe to a member, or of attempting by menace, or other corrupt means or device, directly or indirectly, to control or influence a member in giving his vote, or to prevent his giving the same; but the term of imprisonment which such House may impose for any contempt specified in this section, shall not extend beyond the same session of the Legislature.”—Compiled laws of Mich., Vol. 1, pp. 93, 94.

What I claim is that the Legislature has no power to make a statute that will bind a subsequent Legislature in its action in regard to matters of this kind—in regard to contempt, for instance.

In reference to proceedings of the Legislature, I call the attention of the House to Cooley's Constitutional Limitations, of 1864, in which he says:

“Each House may also punish contempts of its authority by other persons, whether express authority is conferred by the constitution or not; but where imprisonment is imposed as a punishment, it must terminate with the final adjournment of the House, and if the prisoner be not then discharged by its order, he may be released on habeas corpus.”—[Cooley's Constitutional Limitations, p. 134.]

Thus, whether authority is conferred by the constitution, which is higher law than statute, either House may punish as for contempt. In that statute you may do so and so. It does not confer any authority at all. It does not say you shall not do this, and shall not do that; it simply says you “may punish as for contempt.” Legislature and parliament for centuries; in fact, in England, without any statutory provisions, it has been the common law doctrine to punish contempt without any such statutory provision at all, and without, as Mr. Cooley says, any constitutional authority. Our constitution says nothing upon that question at all. Still our Mr. Cooley, Chief Justice of our State, says either House of the Legislature can punish as for contempt without the constitutional authority. That means simply, without any constitutional authority, the Legislature can do it; but when the constitution makes no provision, I take the ground that either House has power to punish as for contempt. The constitution neither takes away, nor does it confer this power. The statute I have read does not confer any power either; we have no more nor no less than we would have if that act had not been passed at all.

Mr. Cushing says, in his “Law and Practice of Legislative Assemblies :—

“The criminal jurisdiction of a legislative assembly is much more extensive than the civil; embracing the misconduct or disorderly behavior of its own members, as well as misdemeanors and offenses committed by other persons. In both cases, the offense may be committed either against the assembly itself, or against its members individually.

“Members may be guilty of misconduct, either towards the assembly itself, towards one another, or towards strangers. Misconduct of members towards the assembly, besides being the same in general as may be committed by other persons, consists of any breaches of decorum or order, or of any disorderly conduct, disobedience to the rules of proceeding, neglect of attendance, etc.; or of any crime, misdemeanor, or misconduct, either civil, moral or official, which, though not strictly an attack upon the house itself, is of such a nature as to render the individual a disgrace to the body of which he is a member. Misconduct of members towards one another, consists of insulting remarks in debate, personal assaults, threats, challenges, etc., in reference to which, besides the ordinary remedies at law, or otherwise, the assembly interferes to protect the member who is injured, insulted, or threatened. Offenses by members towards other persons, of which the assembly has cognizance, consist only of injurious and slanderous assertions, either in speech or by writing, which, as there is no other remedy, the assembly itself, if it thinks proper, takes cognizance of and punishes.

“The offenses against a legislative assembly, which may be committed by persons who are not members of it, are exceedingly multifarious; embracing all offenses against its members individually, all breaches of privilege, whether personal or collective, and all willful obstructions to its regular proceedings, and to the free, independent, and full performance of its various functions.”—Cushing's Law and Practice of Legislative Assemblies, pp. 258, 259.

Now we see what governs this whole case. You will see that the offenses against legislative assemblies are exceedingly multifarious, and any one of them can subject the offender to punishment, as for contempt.

The penalty, as I understand in this case, is to be according to the decision of the House. Formerly, the House of Commons used to inflict a fine, and I understand they do so now. In this country it is by the way of reprimand or imprisonment, and either the reprimand or imprisonment must terminate at the close of the session. The Legislature is a court of last resort, from which there is no appeal. I believe that is the doctrine of legislative assemblies in reference to these matters. It seems to be but just, that the prisoner shall pay the fees of the Sergeant-at-Arms, and his expenses. This can be done in addition to imprisonment, if this House think proper to do so.

Then I say it is clearly within the authority of this House to punish this party for contempt, although his case may not seem to be covered by any section in this chapter of the compiled laws which I have read, as he has obstructed the proceedings of this House, and he can be brought in under the common law doctrine, upon the principle that the Legislature represents the sovereignty of the State, and has therefore authority to punish any who may obstruct its proceedings.

All there is in this case is just this: Mr. Burns came here, as we have a right to infer from the evidence, with the express purpose of getting this charter to mutilate it. He stated to gentlemen after he came here, that he wanted to get this charter. He took it away, and when it was returned here, it was laid upon Mr. Slayton's table, without anybody knowing who laid it there. It was found to be mutilated. Can any one doubt what the motive was in this matter? Can any one doubt that he disregarded the dignity of this House? This may be regarded as a trivial matter; but I maintain this is of some importance. We have seen fit to take notice of this matter, simply to show that there cannot be a precedent established here; to show to the gentlemen from Bay City that they had no right to come here and pretend they wanted to see a bill merely to read, and to keep it eight or ten days, and mutilate it. If we disregard it, why, it may be repeated next week, or it may be repeated at the next Legislature.

We want to have it understood that people cannot come here and commit what is absolute forgery. These changes in the bill after it was put into the hands of the committee were no more nor less than forgery. If it was the intention of this party to have the bill changed so as to have it pass without any knowledge of this House, and to have the boundaries altered, and this office of marshal different from what was intended, he is guilty not only of contempt, but of crime; he is guilty of forgery under the laws of this State. He is guilty of an offense for which he could be incarcerated in the penitentiary. And this House has seen fit to have this party appear as in contempt.

It has cost these people in Bay City at least one hundred dollars to get this bill written. The city paid that amount for it. Any lawyer will agree with me that this was a document of value to Bay City. His action in changing the language of that document, makes him a forger, liable to prosecution and sentence to the penitentiary. He can be arraigned and sent to the penitentiary upon the evidence before this House to-day. Now if a person does commit a crime, which under the laws of the State, would send him to the penitentiary, it is proper for this House to take it into consideration, and show that they will not permit the dignity of the body to be offended by this kind of men.

Mr. Romeyn called the attention of the gentleman from Tuscola to page 93 of the compiled laws.

The Speaker ruled that no argument was in order at this stage of the proceedings.

On motion of Mr. Huston,

Resolved, That the respondent, Mr. Burns, have the privilege of making any remarks he may feel disposed to make.

The Respondent.—Mr. Speaker: I was not aware that I committed any crime that laid me liable to the penitentiary for any term of years. I regret very much that this feeling has existed in this House, after the explanation which certainly should have been satisfactory, made by the gentleman who is chairman of the committee himself, he having known the facts in the case. It was testified by another gentleman that on the 4th or 5th day of March Mr. Grier had the bill in the committee room, and he tells the gentleman (from Wayne, I think) that he is going to alter it so as to suit the charter of Bay City. Those interlineations were made there. It has been stated that Mr. Grier only corrected it, while if you examine the matter, you will find added and stricken from it many passages which could not possibly have been there before: and for this offense, may it please your honor, I was arraigned.

I stated fairly and candidly that I obtained the bill from the chairman of that committee; that I caused the alteration to be made in reference to the election of marshal instead of appointing him; that I returned it within thirty minutes after that, and that no other alteration was made by me but that one, and that is all.

I am charged with doing what is prejudicial to the welfare of Bay City. Now, no man has received authority to amend the charter of Bay City. There are not ten persons in Bay City that know anything about what that charter is. They have been promised a printed bill; they cannot remonstrate; they do not know what it is. Why was there not a petition sent to your Honorable body, to pass that bill? But that is neither here nor there. In closing, allow me to say before this House, in altering that clause I intended to commit no contempt whatever; that I had no intention to come here to injure the people of Bay City. I cannot very well do it, without injuring myself.

Mr. Plimpton—Mr. Speaker, may I make an inquiry?

The Speaker—Yes.

Mr. Plimpton—Do I understand that the prosecution were the only persons to speak in this case, and that no one else could be heard?

The Speaker—I understand that to be the rule, until the respondent is removed from the hall.

Mr. Ingersoll read the rule on that subject.

Mr. Huston—That is according to precedent.

The Speaker—Does the committee understand that the respondent shall be taken from the hall while the House proceeds to pass judgment?

Mr. Romeyn—I move that the House take a recess until 7 o'clock this evening.

Mr. Ingersoll—I think the matter can be got through with before adjournment.

The motion for recess was put, and decided in the negative.

Mr. Mead—I understand the suspension of the rule was not quite as broad; that the rule was suspended only while the managers were being heard, and not while judgment was being passed by the House.

The Speaker—That was the understanding of the Chair, and that the respondent might hear the arguments of the counsels and also respond himself, if he thought proper.

Mr. Mead—Will the House now proceed to pass judgment?

The Speaker—The Chair is of opinion that the respondent should retire; the Sergeant-at-Arms will take the respondent to an adjoining room.

The Speaker was about to put the question as to proceeding to pass judgment;

Mr. W. D. Williams—I understand the gentlemen on the opposite side of the House desire to make remarks on this question.

Mr. Cameron—Then I think we had better adjourn until seven o'clock. It strikes me we will be in better humor to pass sentence after supper.

On motion of Mr. Cameron,

The House took a recess until half-past seven o'clock.

Resolved, That said Daniel Durns be imprisoned in such county jail as shall be selected by the Speaker of this House, until the end of the present session of the Legislature.

Pending the announcement of the vote,

Mr. G. G. Briggs moved that Mr. Horton be excused from voting;

Mr. Horton then voted as recorded above.

Mr. Plimpton moved that the Sergeant-at-Arms be directed to bring the said Daniel Burns to the bar of the House, there to receive the reprimand ordered by the resolution adopted;

Which motion prevailed.

The Sergeant-at-Arms then brought the said Daniel Burns before the bar of the House, and the Speaker proceeded to reprimand him in the following language:

Daniel Burns: The House have imposed upon the Chair a solemn and responsible duty; that of pronouncing the sentence of the House upon you.

The charge for which you were brought before the bar of the House, was for taking from this House a certain bill or paper which had been introduced to this House and referred to a committee, and it then became the property of this House. The chairman of that committee, reposing in your integrity as a man, permitted you to look at the bill and examine it. You violated that trust; you took the bill and conveyed it out of this Hall; and upon your own confession, as well as upon the evidence adduced before this House, did mutilate that bill.

The House, upon a solemn vote, have pronounced you guilty of the charge which was made against you at the bar of the House to-day, and the Chair has not the slightest question that it is within the power of the House to inflict any punishment on you which they may deem proper; or at least, a much more severe punishment than a reprimand. The House has the power, in the opinion of the Chair, to inflict punishment by fine or imprisonment. If the statute quoted by gentlemen, debarred this House from inflicting any punishment upon you, it would leave it open for any person, not a member of this House, to come within this Hall and take from it even its general order, or any order of the House which might, through the courtesy of the clerk or chairman, be confidentially entrusted to his hands. He might leave the House and depart with it, leaving the House no power whatever to retain or recover its documents, thus leaving it within the power of persons, not members of the House, to tamper with the laws of the Legislature; to retard its business, and in fact to destroy the Legislature. The Chair is of the opinion that the House has complete control over its own affairs.

It becomes necessary, to preserve the dignity and honor of this House, that this matter should not be slightly treated or overlooked; that you should be arraigned and brought before the bar, to answer to the charge made against you, and the House have, by their vote, ordered me to solemnly reprimand you for willfully violating the honor and dignity of this House.

On motion of Mr. Plimpton,

The respondent was then ordered to be discharged from custody.

On motion of Mr. Plimpton,

The House adjourned until to-morrow morning at 9 o'clock.

REPORTS OF SELECT COMMITTEES.

Mr. Miles, by unanimous consent, offered the following:

Resolved, That the special committee appointed by this House to examine into the affairs of the Detroit and Milwaukee Railroad, be and they are hereby requested to report the same instanter;

Which was adopted.

REPORT of the majority of the special committee, to whom was referred House resolution of the date of January 16, 1869, in relation to the affairs of the Detroit and Milwaukee Railroad Company.

The majority of the special House committee, to whom was referred the subject embraced in the following resolution:

“Resolved, That a special committee of five be appointed, to inquire by what authority, if any, the so-called Detroit and Milwaukee Railroad Company are exercising the power and privileges of a corporate body, with power to send for persons and papers, and to report by bill or otherwise, as to said authority, and also as to the general management of said road,”

Beg leave respectfully to present the following report. After giving the subject embraced in the foregoing resolution every consideration, they find, as follows:

First. That the Detroit and Pontiac Railroad Company was organized under the act of March 7, A. D. 1834, and that said road was built from Detroit to Pontiac under and by virtue of said charter.

Second. That all the rights, privileges and franchises of the said Detroit and Pontiac Railroad Company were conferred on the Detroit and Milwaukee Railway Company by the Legislature of the State of Michigan, at its regular session in 1855.

Third. That the Legislature of the State of Michigan incorporated the Ottawa and Oakland Railroad Company, April 3d, 1848, with full power to construct a double or single track railroad from Pontiac to Lake Michigan, in the county of Ottawa.

Fourth. That the Legislature of the State of Michigan, by an act approved February 13th, 1855, provided that the Detroit and Pontiac Railroad Company should hereafter be known by the name of the Detroit and Milwaukee Railway Company, and that under that name the capital stock of said company might be increased from time to time to an amount not exceeding $10,000,000 in such manner as might be determined by the board of directors of said company.

Fifth. That the Detroit and Milwaukee railway company was organized for the purpose of forming a continuous line, to purchase all the property, rights and franchises of the said Oakland and Ottawa railroad company, upon such terms as they should mutually agree upon. And the stockholders of the said Oakland and Ottawa railroad company should, in case of any such sale, become stockholders of the said Detroit and Milwaukee railway company, in such proportions as might be agreed upon in the terms of such sale, and then that the said Oakland and Ottawa railroad company should thereafter become forever merged in the said Detroit and Milwaukee railway company.

Sixth. That the said Detroit and Milwaukee railway company was duly organized, in pursuance of, and under the act of Feb. 13, 1855, above referred to; and by its new name, the said company was authorized to continue its road to Lake Michigan, and exercise all the rights of the Detroit and Pontiac railroad company over the whole route.

Seventh. That on the first day of January, A. D. 1858, a mortgage was made by the said Detroit and Milwaukee railway company, to C. J. Brydges, Thomas Reynolds, and H. C. J. Beecher, in trust, to secure bonds to the amount of $750,000, for the payment of the same.

Eighth. That on the 12th day of November, 1858, another mortgage of like kind was executed to the same trustees, to secure bonds to the amount of $500,000. All of which bonds were taken for their par value, and the money received and used by said company in the construction and completion of said road.

Ninth. That no part of the principal or interest of said bonds having been paid, on the 16th day of April, 1859, a bill in chancery was filed in the circuit court of the United States for the district of Michigan, to foreclose said mortgage, and that such proceedings were thereupon had, that a sale of the property and franchises of the corporation was made, in all respects legal in its character, to Thos. Reynolds and William Gray, Esqs., October 4, 1860; that the said Gray and Reynolds, on the 17th day of October, A. D. 1860, conveyed to the Detroit and Milwaukee railroad company all the property and franchises bought by them on the 4th day of October preceding; that the said Detroit and Milwaukee railroad company, in its corporate name, issued new stock in the form of preference shares, (not exceeding the amount authorized by the act of 1859,) to the holders of bonds secured by the mortgage foreclosed, and secured such preferred shares of stock by a mortgage dated December 13, 1860, and afterwards issued stock under the act of March 4, 1861, in pursuance of resolutions adopted by the shareholders and directors to the amount of twenty per cent. of the original shares to such shareholders in the Railway Company as were entitled to the same; that the said Railroad Company, since its organization, has had full and quiet possession of said railroad, and has operated it from that day until the present by and under the name of the Detroit and Milwaukee Railroad Company, and have annually paid their specific State tax, and made their yearly reports, as all other railroads are required by law to do, to the Auditor General, as appears by the reports of the Auditor General, published according to law. That your committee, in the examination of the various acts passed by the Legislature, as well as the constitution of the State, widely differ in their conclusion from that portion of the report of the special committee appointed to investigate the affairs of the Detroit and Milwaukee Railroad Company by the Legislature of 1867, wherein, as appears by the printed report of said committee, they declare the act of the Legislature of 1855 was void and unconstitutional, because section 1, of article 15, of the constitution of Michigan declares, "Corporations may be formed under general laws, but shall not be created by special act, except for municipal purposes."

The act of February 13, 1855, (No. 140,) authorizes the consolidation of the Detroit and Pontiac and the Oakland and Ottawa railroad companies, to form a continuous line from Detroit to Lake Michigan, under the name of the Detroit and Milwaukee railway company. And the amendment to the constitution, which requires a vote of two-thirds of the members elected to constitute such acts of the Legislature legal, and which is referred to by the committee of 1867, as declaring the act of 1855 as unconstitutional, was not passed and made a part of the organic law, until the session of 1861, and adopted by the people at the general election in Nov. 1862, seven years after the consolidation of the two railroads had taken place. And also that section eight, of article 15, of the constitution, declaring "That the Legislature shall pass no law altering or amending any act of incorporation heretofore granted, without the assent of two-thirds of the members elected to each house, nor shall any such act be renewed or extended;" and to which the committee of 1867 refer, in their report, as applicable to the Detroit and Milwaukee railroad company, is, in the judgment of your committee, wholly inapplicable and without any bearing, for the reasons following: The act of February 13, 1855, (No. 140,) authorizing the consolidation of the two companies aforesaid, did not in any wise alter or amend any act of incorporation, but then, as now, left all the rights, privileges and franchises of the Detroit and Pontiac railroad standing in the same relative situation as when organized under the act of March 7, 1834; and the same is equally true of the Oakland and Ottawa railroad company, under and by the terms of its charter.

Your committee deem it wholly unnecessary to examine the journals of either branch of the Legislature of 1855, to ascertain whether the act did or did not receive the required number of votes necessary to pass the bill. It is enough to know that the act was properly enrolled, signed by the President of the Senate and the Speaker of the House of Representatives, presented to the Governor of the State, approved of and signed by him, deposited with the Secretary of State, published by authority among the laws passed at that session of the Legislature; and that we find in the compiled laws of 1857, that the printed copies of all statute acts and resolves of this State, whether of a public or private nature, which shall be published under the authority of the government, shall be admitted as sufficient evidence thereof in all courts, in all proceedings within this State, and therefore look upon this, that it was so printed in the laws of the State, as conclusive that no invalidity exists, and that it is a question which can only be determined and settled by the courts of the State.

Your committee have had summoned and sworn before them Mr. H. H. Emmons, of the city of Detroit, formerly and for many years the counsel, but now employed against the company; Mr. George Jerome, for ten years attorney of the company; Mr. C. C. Trowbridge, well and widely known throughout the State, who for 15 years has been connected with the road as Secretary, Resident Director and President of the Company; Mr. Thomas Bell, the Superintendent of the road; Judge Gould, of Owosso; Mr. Enright, formerly employed as assistant engineer; Mr. Osburn and Mr. Knapp, merchants of Owosso; Senator Rich, of Ionia, all living upon the line of the road, and who have been carefully and fully examined, whose testimony thus taken, under oath, has been reduced to writing and subscribed by each witness, (which testimony accompanies this report,) and from the combined testimony, your committee are of the opinion, equally with Mr. Emmons and Mr. Jerome, that in the proceedings for the foreclosure of the mortgage above referred to, and the sale under and by virtue of such foreclosure and decree, and the re-organization which has vested the title in the Great Western Railway of Canada, that said title to the Detroit and Milwaukee Railroad is as perfect as any one could get upon a sale of a farm under a like proceeding in chancery to foreclose a mortgage legally made and executed, and the farm bid in, under the provisions of the statutes of this State, in such case made and provided; that, in fact, if any doubt existed in the matter, Mr. Emmons, to make assurances doubly sure, procured at various times subsequent legislation, confirming all the proceedings of foreclosure. He also states that in his ten years as counsel for the company, having his office in their station at Detroit, he had rarely heard any complaints of differences between the company and its customers, and that although he had sometimes heard complaints, they were investigated with the utmost promptness by the officers at Detroit, who were unwearied in their efforts to promote kindly feelings along the entire line of their Railroad, and that, in 25 years' experience as counsel for railroads, he had never known a company who had dealt more honestly and generously by its unsecured creditors than the Great Western, through the Detroit and Milwaukee Railroad Company, had done by the creditors of the Detroit and Milwaukee Railway Company, and instanced on the part of the Great Western Railway Company the adjustment of $2,000,000 unsecured claims to take priority over their own debt. Mr. Emmons and Mr. Jerome also testify that since the adjournment of the last Legislature, even the Attorney General had declined proceeding under the permissive resolution of that body to file a quo warranto against the company, simply for the reason that there was nothing to found such action upon.

Mr. Trowbridge and Mr. Bell testified that the road is divided into departments; that the Secretary's department has charge of the records, accounts and finances; the stores department having charge of the whole question of freights, both local and general; the Engineers department having charge of the entire line, track, bridges, &c., which is separated into three divisions, each with a division inspector; the mechanical department having charge of the locomotives, and all work done in the shops of that department for cars, bridges, &c., &c.; the car department, in which the cars of the road are made and daily repaired, and that to each of these departments there is a head, and that he employs the men who are to do the work. The whole number of men employed is about a thousand. No questions are asked as to the applicants nationality, and it so happens, as appears from the testimony before your committee, that seventy per cent. of the men in the mechanical department are American citizens by birth. In the car department the proportion is somewhat less, and the knights of the pick-axe here, as elsewhere, are mostly foreign born, although many of them are naturalized citizens. It is also in evidence that the present Superintendent of the Jackson, Lansing and Saginaw Railroad, and the hero who, having entered the army of Michigan volunteers, from the Detroit and Milwaukee Railroad, and who has earned the highest honors as a soldier—having fought a hundred battles, is now the Superintendent of the Grand River Valley Railroad. These gentlemen, and others who hold high positions in various railroad companies, have served for many years in the employment of the Detroit and Milwaukee Railroad, and are to-day naturalized citizens of the United States.

The testimony of C. C. Trowbridge, President of the Detroit and Milwaukee Railroad, (than whom no citizen stands higher in the State,) revealed to the committee certain facts which cannot but redound to the credit of the company, when the mists and clouds of prejudice have been cleared away. It appears that the Great Western railway company, as last mortgagee, had it in its power to collude with prior mortgagees and cut off every dollar of unsecured debt, and all the stock of the old company. Instead of doing this, they called a meeting of the creditors and shareholders together, and then and there, upon a full statement of the case, an agreement was made for the protection of all parties; which agreement, according to the testimony of Mr. Trowbridge and Mr. Emmons, has been carried out in good faith, at which time and place the Great Western railway did consent to let these creditors take precedence over their own debt.

The committee, with the exception of its chairman, have every reason to believe that the current business of the Detroit and Milwaukee railroad company is performed with as much fairness as that of any other road, east or west. And further, that the company at this time owes no floating debt.

Under the resolution adopted for the action of your committee, and from all the circumstances and testimony adduced before your committee, they have every reason to believe that they are warranted in the expression of the following as their opinion:

First. That the company has a good and indefeasible charter.

Second. That it is as much American in its character and management as other western roads controlled by foreign capital.

Third. That it is honestly, liberally and properly managed.

Fourth. That it is now in a prosperous and flourishing condition.

Fifth. That in the opinion of your committee the Legislature of our State is in duty bound to take a high and honorable stand, and show to foreign capitalists, whose money we are seeking to bring into the State, that they will be met by the constituted authorities of the State in a spirit of frankness worthy of regard, and that their rights will be held by the people of Michigan as sacred as those of native born citizens. The honor of our noble State, upheld on a thousand battle-fields and untarnished in its fiscal history, will admit of no less. Thus far Michigan has had in the monied circles of the East and across the Atlantic a reputation for integrity in all her financial transactions second to no other State in the Union, and it is an undeniable fact that none of the other States in the great Northwest have in any way, through their Legislatures, for many years past, deemed it proper or advisable to interfere with the vested rights of railroad corporations wherever the railroads have been constructed in conformity to the intent expressed in their charters or in compliance with the interests of the masses along the proposed line. A course prosecuted similar to the one under consideration, in any of the great States of Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Wisconsin, Iowa or Minnesota, would cause a sad depreciation of their bonds and stocks, and would so cripple them in the financial markets of the world that almost inevitable ruin would be the result; and now as we are desirous of developing the great wealth of our State by asking capital to come to our aid, is it advisable, by unfriendly legislation, to drive out the monied interests that would otherwise seek investment in our midst?

Sixth. Your committee, except its chairman, concur in the opinion, that of all the vested rights created by legislative enactment in our State, none should be held more sacred and inviolate than those of our railroad corporations, intersecting, as they do, nearly every point of the compass in our State; bringing yearly, as they do, thousands to become citizens within the limits of our fair Peninsula; conveying each day the products of the West to the East, and returning with the productions not only of our own country, but of the world, and thereby increasing the great wealth of the nation in a ratio without a parallel in the world's history.

Seventh. It is a vital question, second in importance to none that can properly become the subject matter of legislative action, whether, in view of the general wants of the State, and the public voice, for additional lines of railroad, east and west, as well as those now being constructed towards the northwestern limits of our State, the Legislature should be constantly annoyed and appealed to at each session to examine into the private affairs of railroad companies, or whether the exhibition of committees, appointed at each session of the Legislature of this State by resolution, "with power to send for persons and papers," should be longer permitted to become stereotyped in the journals and documents of each legislative body, for some fancied wrong, or to appease the vanity or heated imagination of individuals who may work themselves up to a seeming honest belief that wrong exists somewhere; or whether, with a view of giving additional stability to our bonds and the shares of our railroads, at home or in a foreign market, we shall say here, that we, as legislators, having the best and dearest interests of our State at heart, will frown upon all efforts, now and in the future, to disturb the vested rights of our railroads. Any other course, if persisted in, will, in the future, tend to repel all capital from our State, and this, too, at a time when we are soliciting aid for the construction of new railroads. As a State, we must at least manifest good faith toward those who, at an early day, stepped forward when difficulties and financial embarrassment surrounded us, and pushed forward a noble work to a successful termination. This was peculiarly the relationship subsisting between the shareholders of the Great Western railway and the Detroit and Milwaukee railroad company.

Eighth. That no evidence or proof has been offered before your committee, although ample opportunity has been given, showing that the Detroit and Milwaukee railroad are, or have been, violating any of the laws of this State, or disregarding any of the requirements of their organic law; that, in fact, no charge, except that of a frivolous nature, (and which exists as well against every railroad through the entire State and country,) is made against the Detroit and Milwaukee railroad company, and yet this railroad has been signally selected as the target for legislative assault year after year, simply, so far as it appears, because the managing owners are guilty of no other offense than that of operating the road according to their own convictions of right, and the rules adopted by them for the management of their road by its legitimate and proper officers, and who are citizens of another government, who came into our State by the request and invitation of our own citizens, and who have expended millions of dollars in constructing a railroad which we were unable for years to build ourselves, and whose owners cannot benefit themselves without at the same time conferring similar benefits upon our own citizens.

Ninth. Your committee submit, for the consideration of the House of Representatives, whether the supposed or real grievances, by, for or against railroads, should not be determined in the future by our courts of law. Already have the newspapers, in the monied markets of our Atlantic cities, referred to the unfriendly legislation of our State in reference to our railroads. Capitalists, making investments, have grown timid and restive under this infliction of unwise legislative interference on, what is regarded in all our sister States, as vested rights, only to be taken away, modified or corrected by our courts of law.

The voluminous law reports of nearly all the States of the Union, exhibit a multitude of cases brought for or against railroads, and fully justify and warrant us in this conclusion. Your committee, therefore, hope that the facts and suggestions embraced in this report, will be adopted by the House of Representatives as conclusive, and in favor of the legality of the charter of the Detroit and Milwaukee railroad company, fully believing, as we do, that after three unsuccessful attempts to destroy the fair fame and reputation of one of the oldest railroads in the State, that any movement or action on the part of future Legislatures will be instantly frowned down, and the party seeking redress referred to the State courts as the only proper and legitimate channel to hear wrongs, whether fancied or real, and there to be properly adjudicated.

Tenth. Your committee cannot, in justice to themselves, close this voluminous report without saying that in all their investigations they have been prompted by a desire to see the laws of the State upheld and the requirements thereof fully and minutely complied with, and at the same time do strict and impartial injustice to the Detroit and Milwaukee Railroad Company. Taking this as a stand point, your committee thoroughly examined legal gentlemen interested for and against the road, and no disagreements occurred in their testimony touching the legal questions heretofore decided by former committees.

Further, they have carefully examined the law and constitution, and as must be seen, disagree with former published reports of other States, to ascertain the true policy of States towards co-partners and capitalists, either foreign or domestic.

The charges of alleged abuses and mismanagements, as is shown by the testimony of all the witnesses, are of a nature frivolous and unworthy the notice of this Honorable body, in the opinion of your committee.

Your committee cannot close this report without asking that every member give the evidence accompanying this report his personal consideration, believing, as we do, that this matter has been a source of great expense to the State, detrimental and injurious to this important line of railroad, and that the honor of the State demands that this expense and annoyance in the future should be promptly suppressed, at the same time giving any and all individuals the right to go to the courts for redress, instead of repeatedly placing a Legislature in the ridiculous position of "cat's-paw" to gratify the hatred and ill feeling that other parties have, or fancy they have against individuals and corporations of this character in our State.

The committee therefore submit the following resolution:

Resolved, That in the opinion of this House, the several points made by the committee, to investigate the affairs of the Detroit and Milwaukee Railroad Company, have been fully sustained by the testimony brought before the committee, and that said testimony, with the report of the committee, be entered on the journal of this House, and printed for the information of the citizens of this State.

Signed,

Majority of Committee.

DATED LANSING, MICH., March 5, 1867.

Report accepted and leave granted the minority of the committee to report.

On motion of Mr. Smith,

The resolution and report were laid on the table.

Mr. R. V. Briggs moved that the testimony referred to in the report be printed in the journal with the report;

Which motion did not prevail.

The minority of the committee then submitted the following report:

REPORT of the Chairman, being minority of the special committee to whom was referred the investigation of the affairs of the Detroit and Milwaukee Railroad Company.

The undersigned, chairman of the special committee to whom was referred the subject embraced in the following resolution, viz:

“Resolved, That a special committee of five be appointed, to inquire by what authority, if any, the so-called Detroit and Milwaukee Railroad Company are exercising the powers and privileges of a corporate body, with power to send for persons and papers, and to report by bill or otherwise, as to said authority, and also to the general management of the road;”

Begs leave to present the following report:

As to the “authority of the company to exercise the powers and privileges of a corporate body,” the undersigned finds from an examination of the acts of the Legislature upon the subject, and the evidence produced before the committee, that the Detroit and Milwaukee Railroad Company claim to exercise such powers and privileges by virtue of a charter granted in the year 1834 to the Detroit and Pontiac Railroad Company;

Also, by virtue of an act of the Legislature of Michigan, in 1855, conferring upon the Detroit and Milwaukee Railway Company all the franchises of the Detroit and Pontiac Railroad Company, as a result of which consolidation, and by virtue of an act of the Legislature approved February 10, 1859, the company under its present name, commenced its existence;

As to the legality of the several acts of the Legislature by which the extraordinary transformations in the name and nature of this company came about, the undersigned would respectfully refer to the report of the special joint committee appointed by the Legislature of 1867 upon this subject, which is as follows:

First. That the Detroit and Milwaukee railroad company claim to be exercising the powers and privileges of a corporate body, under and by virtue of a charter known as the charter of the Detroit and Pontiac railroad company, granted in the year 1834.

Second. That the rights, privileges and franchises of said Detroit and Pontiac railroad company were conferred on the Detroit and Milwaukee railway company, by act of the Legislature of Michigan, in 1855.

Third. That the present organization known as the Detroit and Milwaukee railroad company, has resulted from proceedings had under and by virtue of an act of the Legislature, approved February 10, 1859.

The above being deduced from the evidence of the officers of said corporation, your committee have been led to an examination of the several acts above cited, and to the constitution of this State, and have, after consultation with the Attorney General, arrived at the following conclusions:

First. That the act of 1855 was void. Section 1, of article 15, of the constitution, declares: "Corporations may be formed under general laws, but shall not be created by special act, except for municipal purposes."

Section 8, of article 15, of the constitution, declares: "The Legislature shall pass no law altering or amending any act of incorporation heretofore granted, without the assent of two-thirds of the members elected to each House; nor shall any such act be renewed or extended."

The following inquiries have suggested themselves to your committee:

First. Did the act of 1855 so alter or amend the act by which the Detroit and Pontiac railroad charter was granted, as to require a two-thirds vote of all the members elected to each House?

By reference to the act of incorporation by which the Detroit and Pontiac railroad company was organized, we find the corporation authorized to construct a single or double railroad from Detroit to Pontiac, over which said company were empowered to take, transport and carry persons and property by the use of steam, of animals, or of any mechanical or other power, or of any combination of them.

No provisions are made by said act regulating rates of fare or of freight, neither does it appear that any subsequent legislation has been had affecting said road.

In 1848, the Legislature of Michigan, by act approved April 3, 1848, incorporated the Ottawa and Oakland railroad company, with power to construct a double or single track railroad from Pontiac to Lake Michigan, in the county of Ottawa.

How much and to what extent this corporation had operated under its charter, previous to the year 1855, your committee have not investigated, neither do they deem the fact important in their investigations.

We now invite attention to the act of the Legislature, approved Feb. 13th, 1855, by which the present Detroit and Milwaukee railroad company claim to be operating and doing business.

Section 1, of said act provides that the Detroit and Pontiac railroad company shall be known hereafter by the name of the Detroit and Milwaukee railway company.

Sec. 2. The capital stock of said company may be increased by said company from time to time to an amount not exceeding ten millions of dollars, in such manner as may be determined by the board of directors of said company.

Sec. 3. The said company is hereby authorized for the purpose of forming a continuous line, to purchase all the property, rights and franchises of the Oakland and Ottawa railroad company, upon such terms as shall be mutually agreed upon, and the stockholders of the said Oakland and Ottawa railroad company shall in case of such sale, become stockholders of said Detroit and Milwaukee railway company, in such proportions as may be agreed upon in the terms of sale; and the said Oakland and Ottawa railroad company shall thereupon become merged in the said Detroit and Milwaukee railway company.

Sec. 4. In case of the said purchase or consolidation, the said Detroit and Milwaukee railway company shall hold the whole of said road and property, subject in all respects to the original charter of the Detroit and Pontiac railroad company, as amended from time to time, and shall have full power and authority to exercise the powers, privileges and franchises granted by said charter, over the whole line of said roads and property, in like manner as if both of said companies had originally been incorporated under said charter.

The original charter of the Detroit and Pontiac railroad company limited its stock to one hundred thousand dollars.

The capital stock authorized by the charter of the Oakland and Ottawa railroad was limited to two millions five hundred thousand dollars.

The act of consolidation authorizes the capital stock to be increased to ten millions of dollars.

The Detroit and Pontiac by its charter was authorized to construct a road from Detroit to Pontiac.

By the act of 1855, the name of the company is changed, and then by the new name the company is authorized to continue its road to lake Michigan, and exercise the rights of the Detroit and Pontiac railroad company over the entire route.

The question, could all these changes be authorized without the assent of two-thirds of the members elected in both Houses, is, we think, satisfactorily answered by reference to the several acts hereinbefore cited.

By reference to the House journals of 1855, your committee find the whole number of members elected to that body to have been seventy-one, of whom but forty-seven voted on the final vote by which it is claimed the act of 1855 became a law, and under which the said Detroit and Milwaukee railroad company are now exercising the rights and powers originally conferred upon the Detroit and Pontiac railroad.

The invalidity of the act of 1855 seems to be generally admitted, but that it has been cured by subsequent legislation, is now claimed, and your committee have been cited to an act of the Legislature, approved January 29, 1859, in support of that claim.

The object of said act is apparent upon its title, which is as follows:

"An act to legalize certain loans made by the Detroit and Milwaukee railway company, and to permit further loans."

That no other or further object was sought by said act than is expressed in its title, seems clear to your committee; hence, whether it was passed by a two-thirds vote of all the members elect or not, seems of no importance in our investigations, as we can see nothing in the act showing or tending to show that the Legislature intended to affect any law then existing, or to accomplish any other object than the passage of the bill then before it; and your committee can conceive of no rule by which a two-thirds vote, recorded on one measure, can be transferred in its effects to another measure not before the Legislature.

The report of that committee upon the constitutionality of the several acts referred to, is, in the opinion of the undersigned, comprehensive and conclusive. The members composing the committee were men of ripe judgment and legal ability. The report was made after consultation with the Attorney General, and the conclusions arrived at were the same to which the undersigned has arrived, after a careful examination of the acts cited and the constitution of the State. The minority of your committee therefore refers to said report for a more detailed statement of the facts, together with the legal reasoning founded upon them, and have thought it sufficient for the purposes of this report, to state the conclusions of the committee thereupon:

These conclusions are that the act of 1855, upon which basis it is apparent the whole superstructure of this corporation rests, is void.

First. Because it undertook by special act to form a corporation for other than a municipal purpose, in violation of section 1, of article 15, of the constitution, which declares that "corporations may be formed under general laws, but shall not created by special act, except for municipal purposes."

Second. Because it altered the name, increased the capital stock and extended the line of a railroad company by a vote of but forty-seven out of seventy-one members elect of the House of Representatives. (See House Journals, 1855.)

In violation of section 8, article 15, of the constitution of the State, which declares:

“The Legislature shall pass no law altering or amending any act of incorporation heretofore granted, without the assent of two-thirds of the members elected to such House, nor shall such act be renewed or extended.”

In the opinion of the minority of your committee, the so-called Detroit and Milwaukee Rail Road Company are exercising the powers and privileges of a corporate body without any authority of law whatever; that the company is in the nature of a huge parasite, which has attached itself to the body of the law, has assumed its color, is sheltered in its shadow, and is apparently a part of it, but when examined closely, is found to have no natural relationship with it, but to be a foreign substance, connected by its own pertinacity only, and when severed from its unnatural support, will wither and die in a day, leaving nothing upon the law but the stain of its former presence.

It may seem singular that questions as to the legal existence of this company should not have arisen in the courts of the State.

The evidence before your committee shows that such questions have arisen in the circuit courts, and have been decided adverse to the company, and the matters in controversy then compromised without appeal, showing that the company was either satisfied with the judgment, and had no faith in itself, or dared not submit the question of the validity of the acts of its organization to the Supreme Court. In the county of Ionia, lands had been taken by the company for its use under the law authorizing railroad companies to take the land of individuals for its track. A suit in ejectment was brought by the owner, who claimed on the trial that the consolidation act of 1855 was unconstitutional, inasmuch as it claimed to extend the franchises of the Detroit and Pontiac Railroad Company's charter beyond Pontiac, to Lake Michigan, and that the company had no power or jurisdiction to condemn the lands in question under the Pontiac charter. This was the issue tried, and judgment was rendered for the plaintiff: Judge Lovell presiding.

The suit was not appealed by the defendants, for reasons which are apparent to your committee.

Other suits have been brought involving the same questions, but have been settled, and suits are now pending in the courts in which it is claimed by the plaintiffs that the Detroit and Milwaukee Rail-way, and the Detroit and Milwaukee Rail-road companies are the same company.

These facts acquire an additional significance when it also appears that these suits are brought by the attorneys who were the attorneys and legal advisers of the company during the time of the passage of these acts and its pretended organization, and from these facts the minority of your committee infer that the question of the constitutionality of these acts, and the legal existence of the corporation, will never be permitted by it to be brought before any court of last resort, unless upon compulsion.

This company therefore, in the opinion of the minority of your committee, presents this anomaly in the history of corporations:

We find a corporation exercising the broadest and most unlimited corporate rights—rights with which the people at this day refuse to invest any corporate body, and this after a committee of both Houses of the Legislature of the State, after consultation with the Attorney General, have decided that in their opinion it has no legal existence as a corporate body; after the courts of the State have decided the acts under which it claims to be organized and acting are unconstitutional and void; and the company have acquiesced in such decisions by the payment or settlement of claims founded upon such decisions and opinions, without testing their correctness in the manner provided by law.

As to the second object of inquiry contemplated by the resolution, viz., the general management of the road, the chairman of your committee, on account of the result of their investigations respecting the more important matter of the legal existence of the corporation, as well as on account of the public notoriety of the facts concerning the management of the road, and the great expense attending the summoning of witnesses from distant points, have not thought it necessary or expedient to take the testimony of many witnesses. The persons sworn, however, have been those most likely to know about the matters to which their attention was called.

From the evidence adduced, the minority of your committee have found the following facts to exist: The Detroit and Milwaukee Rail Road Company is entirely and absolutely under the control and management of the Great Western Railway Company of Canada. That it was nominally placed in its hands as security for the payment of money, which careful estimates made, and publicly stated at the time, showed could soon be repaid if the road was properly managed, when the company would revert to its stockholders. That in reality the road was taken by said Great Western Company, and has been managed by it for the purposes simply and solely of making it a feeder for its own road; that under its management no profits have been applied in the manner intended or promised, if any have ever been realized; that said Great Western Company holds all its preferred stock; and even claims for over-charges have been, and if over a certain amount, are usually sent to Hamilton for adjustment, causing so much delay and circumlocution that the evidence of shippers shows that if claims are small, they do not pay for the trouble and time spent in their collection.

That during the last season, when the track was suffering for repairs, the company refitted one of its vessels, hired another to run in its place, and gave an excursion to its Canadian managers to Milwaukee and around the lakes, at an expense of many thousands of dollars, no small item of which, according to common report, was the wine and other liquors furnished for the occasion.

As regards the extravagance with which the road is now managed, the minority of your committee cannot cite a better instance than that its English superintendent, a former employé on the Great Western road, when summoned to appear before your committee, required a special train to bring him over the line of said road. As an offset, however, to this somewhat expensive exclusiveness, its American president, Mr. Trowbridge, a gentleman "to the manor born," but who seems to your committee to have but little authority over, or means of knowledge of the actual management of the company of which he is the nominal president, came to Lansing on an ordinary train. The minority of your committee find, further, that there is general dissatisfaction along the line of the road among persons doing business with it; that the adjustment of claims is uncertain and long delayed. The evidence shows in one case, that when the company was sued for a claimed overcharge, a rule was made requiring the claimant, a resident of Owosso, to pay the freight on goods shipped over the line by him in Detroit, in advance, before the goods would be sent forward. At Ionia indignation meetings were held by the citizens in regard to claimed abuses, and it is in evidence that the public feeling at that place was the primary cause of the building of the Ionia and Lansing Railroad. The minority of your committee have no doubt that much of the general dissatisfaction which prevails, is to another fact in evidence before your committee, that nearly all the employés of the company are foreigners, who know little or nothing of the customs of the country, or of the American manner of doing business, and have no sympathy with their customers. It is claimed by the company that these sort of agents can be obtained cheaper than competent Americans, and the minority of your committee have but little doubt of the fact; but they at the same time submit that the money spent for the extrordinary purposes above referred to, might help materially to employ competent men.

As to the rates for freight and fare for passengers, the evidence shows that the rates on freight are a little higher between stations where there is no competition than those of other roads in the State, while the fare for passengers is from 4 to 10 cents per mile; between Owosso and Corunna, a distance of three miles, the fare, if paid at a station, is 20 cents; if paid on the cars, 30 cents. The officers of the company state that there is no limitation in their charter as to rates for freight or fare, and the company is therefore unlimited in that respect.

It is but justice to the officers of the company to state that these of them examined by your committee, state that no railroad more fully complies with the wishes of its customers than the Detroit and Milwaukee, in their opinion; that its employes all treat people well, as far as they know, and all complaints receive due attention, as they believe.

By reference to the report of the committee above referred to on this branch of the inquiry, it will be seen that the committee came to the conclusion that "there would be no friendly feeling exhibited toward the road until the management should be changed, to meet the American idea of railroad management," in which conclusion the minority of your committee concur, with the further statement that from the evidence before them, they can discover no signs of such desirable change.

The minority of your committee, in view of the facts, cannot but regret that no proceedings were instituted by the Attorney General in regard to said corporation, as contemplated by the action and instructions of the last Legislature, founded on the report of said committee, and they cannot but believe that some day this bubble will burst, to the ruin of those who have contracted, and otherwise become connected with it, on the strength of its assumed position and powers.

In view of the conclusions to which they have come, the minority of your committee respectfully submit that in their opinion it is the duty of the Legislature, by resolution or otherwise, to instruct the Attorney General to institute such proceedings as will test the validity of the act or acts under which the Detroit and Milwaukee railroad company claim to be exercising the powers of a corporate body.

And the minority of your committee further recommend that a committee be appointed by this House, whose duty it shall be to employ counsel, and institute proceedings, and do all things proper and necessary to be done in the premises, to test the validity of said act or acts, provided the Attorney General shall not, within a reasonable time, commence such proceedings.

In conclusion, let me say that with a full conviction of my duty and obligations as a representative, I have endeavored to perform my duties in this case without fear or favor, and I honestly and candidly believe that this report is in accordance with the facts and evidence, and I sincere'y hope and trust that this Honorable body will take such action as is herein recommended.

E. B. WARD,

Chairman, and Minority of Committee.

By the committee on public lands:

The committee on public lands, to whom was referred

A bill to repeal act No. 362, of the session laws of 1867, entitled "An act to provide for the drainage and reclamation of swamp lands, by means of State roads and ditches from Crawford's marble quarry, to the Duncan, Alpena and Sauble river State road,"

Respectfully report that they have had the same under consideration, and have directed me to report the same back to the House without amendment, and recommend that it do pass, and ask to be discharged from the further consideration of the subject.

B. W. HUSTON, JR., Chairman.

Report accepted and committee discharged.

The bill was ordered printed, referred to the committee of the whole, and placed on the general order.

By the committee on public lands:

The committee on public lands beg leave to submit the following supplementary report, calling attention to an error in their former report, of the condition of the swamp land grant:

The error was made in deducting the amount expended for various purposes, as shown in the grand total of table five, in Mr. Curtis' report, from the amount of swamp lands granted to the State in the Lower Peninsula. Our report showed the difference to be 1,219,941, when it should have been 857,222 in round numbers, a slight difference of some 362,000 acres less. This error was carried through the whole report, and of course must be deducted from the 1,118,708 acres, that said report seemed to have on hand, which would reduce the amount to 756,708 acres.

Since making our former report, the chairman of your committee has been informed by Mr. Curtis, that he (Mr. Curtis) did not include in his grand total, in table five of his report, the $185,000 in round numbers, paid into the primary school fund, which must also be deducted from the foregoing amount on hand. On the other hand, if certain acts appropriating swamp lands are repealed, that have been recommended to be repealed by Mr. Curtis, there will be some 134,000 acres returned to the grant.

Your committee deemed it advisable to make this report, as they do not desire to be responsible, should large appropriations be made, and exceeding the fund on hand unappropriated.

The chairman of your committee deems it but just to the other members of said committee, to say the slight error above mentioned, was his own, and that no other person is responsible for the same. He also says, that in drawing said report he did not intend in any manner to censure Mr. Curtis, the swamp land State road commissioner, in any respect whatever. All of which is respectfully submitted.

B. W. HUSTON, JR., Chairman.

Report accepted and committee discharged.

By the committee on the judiciary:

The committee on the judiciary, to whom was referred

A bill to amend an act entitled "An act to establish a judicial circuit in the Upper Peninsula," approved March 19, 1863, by adding a new section thereto, requiring the judge of said circuit to be a resident thereof,

Respectfully report that they have had the same under consideration, and have directed me to report the same back to the House, without amendment, and without recommendation, and ask to be discharged from the further consideration of the subject.

ELISHA F. MEAD, Chairman.

Report accepted and committee discharged.

On motion of Mr. H. G. Williams,

The bill was ordered printed, referred to the committee of the whole, and placed on the general order.

The Sergeant-at-Arms announced the Private Secretary of the Governor, who transmitted to the House a message from His Excellency, the Governor, in writing.

REPORTS OF STANDING COMMITTEES.

By the committee on drainage:

The committee on drainage, to whom was referred Senate bill No. 156, being in fact a compromise consolidation of Senate bill No. 156 and House bill No. 130, being

A bill to provide for the draining of swamps, marshes and other low lands,

Would respectfully report that they have had the same under consideration, and inasmuch as in their opinion, it combines as far as it is possible to do in any one bill, the various views and wishes of all the friends of a safe, economical and effective county drainage law, making the office either elective, or to be nominated by the board of supervisors and appointed by a court of record, as the people may desire, and further, placing it within the power of the people of every county in the State to have, or not to have, drainage commissioners, just as they may themselves elect; and further, providing that drains may be laid out and constructed, either with or without jury expenses, just as those interested in the matter may themselves prefer; thus making it, in every respect, as your committee believe, an improvement upon the former detached laws upon this important, and to many parts of the State, most important matter. And inasmuch as the highway commissioner drainage laws, though very desirable for certain purposes, could not so adequately, nor, indeed, economically, provide for the construction of those larger drains, involving, oftentimes, several different towns in one continuous system of drainage.

Your committee would, therefore, unanimously recommend that it do pass, without amendment, and ask to be discharged from the further consideration of the subject.

The title, as amended by the Senate, was agreed to.

On motion of Mr. Smith,

By a vote of two-thirds of all the members elect, the bill was ordered to take immediate effect.

The bill was then referred to the committee on engrossment and enrollment, for enrollment.

By unanimous consent, the following report was submitted:

The special committee to whom was referred the examination of the heating apparatus connected with this hall, respectfully report that they have made the examination required, and have determined that the evil complained of can be remedied by attaching a sheet iron smoke-pipe to the top of the chimney to which said heating apparatus is connected. The pipe, in the opinion of your committee, will be required to be not less than four feet long, and will cost about $6.

Your committee further report that a part of the iron rods designed to hold plates of stove together are burned off, and the same can be replaced at a very small expense, and without loss of time in business of this House. The firm of Grove & Whitney, of this city, from whom some of the information was obtained, will, if desired, make the improvements this day.

C. R. MILLINGTON, Chairman.

Report accepted and committee discharged.

Mr. Millington, by unanimous consent, offered the following:

Resolved, That the committee on supplies be directed to make the improvements connected with the heating apparatus for the use of this hall, in accordance with the report of the special committee on that subject.

Which was adopted.

By unanimous consent, the committee on banks and incorporations submitted the following report:

The committee on banks and incorporations, to whom was referred

A bill to amend an act entitled "an act to amend the laws relative to supplying the city of Detroit with pure and wholesome water," approved February 14, 1853;

Also, petition of Wm. F. Dickinson and 42 others, relative to said city of Detroit;

Have made an amendment to the bill, and recommend that the amendment be concurred in, and that the bill, when so amended, do pass.

DAN'L L. CROSSMAN, Acting Chairman.

Report accepted and committee discharged.

On motion of Mr. Walker,

The House concurred in the amendments made to the bill by the committee.

The bill was then ordered printed, referred to the committee of the whole, and placed on the general order.

By unanimous consent the joint special committee on water works submitted the following report:

The joint special committee on water works to whom was referred Senate bill No. 84, entitled

A bill to create and regulate water companies;

Also, House bill No. 185, entitled

A bill to authorize the formation of companies for the introduction of water into towns, cities and villages in the State of Michigan;

A bill to authorize the formation of companies for the construction of water works in and for incorporated cities and villages, and to authorize such cities and villages to subscribe stock in such companies, and to issue and sell bonds and levy taxes for the payment thereof,

Respectfully report that they have had the same under consideration, and have directed me to report the same back to the House, with the accompanying substitute, entitled

A bill to authorize the formation of companies for the introduction of water into towns, cities and villages in the State of Michigan,

In which your committee have embodied all the points of merit embraced in the three bills, making the substitute satisfactory to all the parties concerned,

Recommending that the substitute be concurred in, and that the substitute do pass, and ask to be discharged from the further consideration of the subject.

DAN'L L. CROSSMAN, Chairman.

By Mr. Boynton: remonstrance of A. R. Loud, James McCall and 52 other citizens of Iosco county, against the passage of a bill entitled "The Sauble river and Tawas river boom company," with certain privileges.

On motion of Mr. Boynton,

The remonstrance was ordered printed in the journal.

The following is the remonstrance:

To the Honorable the House of Representatives and Senate of the State of Michigan:

The undersigned, residents of the town and village of Au Sable, Iosco county, State of Michigan, being informed that the people of Tawas and others, have made petition to your Honorable body to authorize or charter the digging of a canal, or turning the waters of the Au Sable river in whole or in part into Tawas Lake, and thence to Tawas Bay, and believing that such division of its waters, if accomplished, would seriously damage all the property situated on or dependent upon said river below said canal; that large investments have been made in mill property, depending upon the navigation of the river at and near its mouth; that government has and is expending a large amount to open a harbor which would be entirely destroyed if any material part of the water were turned aside, as there is now but a low depth of water, thus doing great and irreparable damage to public and private interest, without compensation or redress. We therefore beg to remonstrate against the granting of any such privilege or authority to such petitioners.

By Mr. Klein: memorial of the Board of Trade of the city of Detroit, in relation to the Ste. Mary's Ship Canal.

On motion of Mr. Klein,

The memorial was referred to the committee on federal relations, and was ordered printed in the journal.

The following is the memorial:

BOARD OF TRADE ROOMS, }
Detroit, March 15, 1869. }

To the Honorable the Senate and House of Representatives of the State of Michigan:

At a special meeting of this board, held to-day, the following preamble and resolution were adopted:

Whereas, The history and commerce of the Sault Canal for the last few years has fully demonstrated its inadequacy and inefficiency for the purpose for which it was constructed—to bear the commerce of the Lake Superior country—on account of the insufficient depth of said canal; and,

Whereas, The deepening of said canal is imperiously demanded by the wants of commerce, and will cost some $200,000, which sum the State of Michigan cannot and ought not to expend upon this general highway of commerce, open to all the neighboring States, as well as to foreign nations; and,

Whereas, Application has been heretofore frequently made to Congress for aid to deepen said canal, and the same has been refused because said canal is a public work of the State of Michigan; therefore,

Resolved, That this board respectfully petition and urge the Legislature of the State of Michigan that they will pass an act ceding said Sault Canal to the United States, upon the consideration that Congress shall assume the care and control of said canal, and appropriate at least the sum of $50,000.

C. A. SHELDON, President.

RAY HADDOCK, Secretary.

By Mr. Ingersoll: remonstrance of L. D. Jones, H. Newberry and 90 others, voters of the townships of Vernon and Shiawassee, against the passage of the bill increasing the number of supervisors in the city of Owosso.

On motion of Mr. Ingersoll,

The remonstrance was referred to the committee on banks and incorporations, and was ordered printed in the journal.

The following is the remonstrance:

To the Hon. the House of Representatives of the State of Michigan:

The undersigned, electors of the first representative district in the county of Shiawassee, having learned that a bill has passed the Senate, giving two more supervisors to the city of Owosso, would respectfully, but earnestly protest and remonstrate against the passage of said bill, for the following, among other reasons:

First. For ten years past the city of Owosso and the township of Owosso have been represented upon the board of supervisors by three supervisors, while the township of Caledonia and the village of Corruna (now the city of Corruna) has only had one supervisor, yet the number of votes has been about equal.

Second. If said bill shall become a law, the second representative district in this county will continue in the future, as in the past, to have a majority upon the board of supervisors, which, in our judgment, is manifestly wrong, and in opposition to the fundamental principles of a Republican government; because, if property has anything to do with representation, the first representative district, and not the second, is justly entitled to a majority of the supervisors; for, by equalized valuation of property, we find that the amount in the first district exceeds the amount in the second district by considerable over two hundred thousand dollars, which is much more than the entire valuation of the city of Owosso; and if population or territory is to be represented in either case, the first district has the unquestionable right to a majority upon the board of supervisors, for the reason that its population exceeds that of the second district by an amount almost equal to that of the entire population of the city of Owosso, and its territory exceeds that of the second district by about forty-seven sections of land (forty-seven square miles).

By the incorporation of the city of Corunna, with three supervisors, an act of simple justice has been done not only to Corunna, but to the first district, for in that way only could the first district obtain that representation upon the board of supervisors, which facts and figures demonstrate it is justly and fairly entitled to, and which it will have in the future, if justice triumphs, and said Owosso supervisors, bill is defeated.

authorities, from the 1st day of August, 1861, to the 28th day of August, 1861, both days inclusive, and who did not receive pay for such services.

The following is the communication:

ADJUTANT GENERAL'S OFFICE, }
Detroit, March 9, 1869. }

HON. N. S. BOYNTON, House Representatives, Lansing:

DEAR SIR—I have received your letter of yesterday, making inquiries with regard to the matter embraced in the enclosed memorial. In reply I state that the non-commissioned staff, non-commissioned officers and musicians of three regiments, 5th, 6th and 7th infantry, who were in the service of the State at the "Camp of Instruction," at Fort Wayne, in 1861, numbering about 463, would be claimants for such pay, and which would amount to about $6,500.

With regard to this amount if paid, being refunded by the General Government, I say that I have been informed by the Quartermaster General of the State, that the claim for the similar payments made by the State Paymaster has been allowed, and the amount refunded to the State by the Government.

The reason the payment was not made at the time, was that the regiments were hurried to the front before it could be accomplished.

I consider the claim of these men a just one, and I have always understood that the Government would have made the payment to these men after the regiments went to the field, if pay rolls had been presented to the Pay department for that purpose.

I have the honor to be,

Your most obedient serv't,

JNO. ROBERTSON,

Adjutant General

On motion of Mr. Cameron,

On motion of Mr. Smith,

The bill was placed on the order of third reading.

By the committee on ways and means:

The committee on ways and means, to whom was referred a joint resolution, entitled

Joint resolution providing for refunding to National banks the taxes paid by them into the State treasury of this State;

Also, a joint resolution entitled

Joint resolution in relation to certain specific taxes upon banks;

Also, the petition of James F. Brown, president, and Douglas Hoyt, cashier of the Merchants' National Bank of East Saginaw, in relation to the tax on national banks, asking for the refunding of the same;

Also, the petition of James W. Norton, cashier of the Lowell National Bank, of Lowell, Michigan, for the same purpose;

Also, the petition of Hugh McCurdy, president of the First National Bank of Corunna, Michigan, for the same purpose;

Also, the petition of E. W. Giddings, president, M. A. Giddings, vice president, and H. O. Smith, cashier of the First National Bank of Romeo, Mich., for the same purpose;

Also, the petition of George J. Crossett, president, and other persons, officers and directors of the National Bank of Constantine, Mich., for the same purpose;

Also, the petition of J. L. Mead, president, and others, the officers and directors of the Second National Bank of Lansing, Mich., for the same purpose;

Respectfully report that said committee has had the same under consideration, and would say that the making of this report has been delayed, at the instance and request of certain persons claiming to act in the interest of certain national banks of this State, and although all the time has been allowed for the presentation of petitions in this behalf, that circumstances seemed to require, yet only a comparatively small number of banks have expressed a desire for the refunding of the taxes referred to in said joint resolutions and petitions. It is, however, but fair to say, in this connection, that several of the banks above mentioned as presenting petitions, promptly paid all of the taxes provided for in the law referred to in said resolutions, and your committee are of the opinion that had all of said taxes been paid with equal promptness, that none of said petitions would have been presented.

In arriving at the conclusion reached by your committee in regard to said resolutions, as hereinafter set forth, the members of the committee cannot but recollect that, at the time of the passage of the law imposing said taxes, a much larger number of banks were favorable to its passage than the number now asking that said taxes be refunded; in fact, that said mode of taxation was adopted after receiving nearly or quite the unanimous sanction and support of the banks of this State, as then expressed by the officers and agents of said banks. The members of your committee also have in mind the fact, no less unpleasant than true, that a considerable amount of money is annually received into the various treasuries of the State, that has been erroneously or illegally collected, and that many of the items that go to make up this amount are proportionately as great a burden upon those paying the same, as are the taxes in question upon those seeking relief. The framing of laws in relation to taxation is undoubtedly the most difficult branch of legislation—one in which many errors and irregularities must necessarily occur, and one wherein many difficulties are met with in correcting defects in the working of this class of laws. The Legislature ought to correct these evils as far as possible, and afford relief in every case where the nature of the same, and the circumstances attending it, would seem to require that such relief ought to be granted; but your committee are unanimously of the opinion that the instance in question is not one that should come within that requirement, and therefore have directed me to report said joint resolutions back to the House, without amendment, and recommend that they do not pass, and ask to be discharged from the further consideration of the subject.

REPORTS OF SPECIAL COMMITTEES.

The committee of conference, on the disagreement of the two Houses, on the amendment made by the Senate to House joint resolution No. 10, by striking therefrom the words "His Excellency," respectfully report that while giving the subject that careful and considerate attention which the subject seems to demand, they found that the Senate, on the 16th inst., amended House bill No. 95, by inserting therein the words "His Excellency," before the word "Governor," and that the House has concurred in the amendment. Such being the case, your committee were, necessarily, led to the conclusion that the Senate cannot consistently complain of the action of the House, so long as they are amenable to the same want of propriety, in the use of language. Your committee, therefore, recommend that the Senate recede from its action, in striking from House joint resolution No. 10, the words "His Excellency," but that both the House and the Senate hereafter, refrain from the use of similar language in public acts.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

S. PEARL,

Chairman House Committee.

Report accepted.

Also: the petition of R. G. McKee, F. McClintock, and 394 citizens of the county of Shiawassee, asking for the passage of said bill;

Also: eighteen remonstrances from 856 citizens of said county, against the passage of the bill giving the city of Owosso an additional representation of two members on the board of supervisors of said county,

Respectfully report that they have had the same under consideration, and have found that the main objection to the passage of the bill is allowing the city of Owosso four supervisors instead of two, as at present. All parties having compromised upon the matter, your committee have prepared several amendments to the bill, changing the proposed number four, to three; also, several other amendments, at the suggestion of the friends of the bill. They have, therefore, directed me to report the same back to the House, with the accompanying amendments, recommending that the amendments be concurred in, and that the bill, when so amended, do pass, and ask to be discharged from the further consideration of the subject.

UNITED STATES SENATE CHAMBER, }
Washington, March 14, 1869. }

DEAR SIR—I take the liberty to enclose a letter from the Commissioner of Indian Affairs, relative to the vaccination of the Indians in our State. Will you please make such use of it as you may think wise and befitting.

Very truly yours,

J. M. HOWARD.

Hon. Speaker of the House of Representatives, Lansing, Mich.

The following is the letter referred to:

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR,
OFFICE OF INDIAN AFFAIRS,
Washington, D. C., March 13, 1869.

SIR—I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your communication of the 12th inst., stating that the Legislature of Michigan has before it a joint resolution, reciting the fact that the small pox is raging in some parts of the State where Indians are settled, and that many of them have not been vaccinated, and requesting the delegation in Congress to inquire of the proper Department whether provision has been made to supply vaccine matter for the Indians.

In reply to your inquiry for information on the subject, I have to say, that the attention of this office was called to the fact about one year ago, that there were Indians on Mackinac Island, who had never been vaccinated. Agent Smith was at once instructed to inquire into the matter, and, if he found any who had not been vaccinated, to take steps to have it done without delay. The agent, in reply, under date of March 10, 1868, says he is confident the vaccination of the Indians in his agency has not seriously been neglected; that sometime prior to the date of his letter he addressed a communication to Dr. J. R. Bailey, of Mackinac, in regard to the matter, who advised, as a prudential measure, the vaccination of the Indians again, and that he had asked for a remittance to enable him to have it done, to the extent deemed necessary. Funds were accordingly remitted to the agent, and it was presumed the matter had been attended to.

I have this day written to agent Smith in regard to the matter, and instructed him to take immediate steps for the vaccination of all the Indians in his agency, who have not already been vaccinated.

Very respectfully, your ob't serv't,

N. G. TAYLOR, Commissioner.

HON. J. M. HOWARD, U. S. Senate.

of land, to aid in building a harbor and ship canal to connect the waters of lake Superior with the waters of Portage lake.

On the 18th day of March the Legislature of Michigan accepted the grant, and conferred the lands upon the Portage lake and Lake Superior ship canal company, with conditions and privileges as provided in act No. 216, laws of 1865. By the same act it was made the duty of the Governor to appoint an engineer to survey, lay out, and establish the route of said canal and make a specification and diagram thereof, to be approved by the Governor, and when so approved, to be filed in the office of the Secretary of State.

By a subsequent act of Congress, approved July 3, 1866, a second grant of two hundred thousand acres of land was made for the same purpose, which grant was accepted by the State, act No. 469 session laws of 1867.

By the terms of the first grant the canal was to be completed within two years from the passage of the act, or the lands to revert to the United States.

The act of Congress conferring the second grant upon the company, extended the time for the completion of the work three years, which time will expire on the 3d of March, 1870.

In compliance with the requirements of act No. 216, of 1865, my predecessor appointed Mr. J. N. Greene engineer for this work, by whom a diagram and specifications were made, under the careful scrutiny and supervision of the Governor, which were accepted by the company, and filed in the office of the Secretary of State on the 9th of October, 1867.

The report of the engineer, made on the 28th of December, 1868, as to the progress and probable completion of the work within the time specified in the act of Congress, is not encouraging. The report is herewith transmitted to your Honorable body.

Inasmuch as the company upon whom these roads have been conferred are asking legislation at your hands, the peculiarities of some of the provisions of the first act of the Legislature and the second of Congress, granting these lands to the Portage

Lake and Lake Superior Ship Canal Company, taken in connection with the report of the engineer, the importance of the work, and the great value of many of the lands, makes it my duty to call your attention to the subject, and to express the hope that it may receive the careful examination and consideration which its importance demands.

HENRY P. BALDWIN.

Mr. Mead moved that there be a committee of five, of which Mr. W. D Williams should be chairman, appointed on the part of the House, to act with a like committee on the part of the Senate, to consider the subject embraced in the above communication;

Which motion prevailed.

The Speaker announced as such committee, Messrs. W. D. Williams, Holt, Huston, Slayton and Romeyn.

The Speaker also announced the following:

EXECUTIVE OFFICE, }
Lansing, March 19, 1869. }

To the House of Representatives:

I herewith respectfully return to the House, without my approval:

"An act to divide the township of Bertrand, county of Barrien, and to organize a new township, to be called the township of Dayton."

The present township of Bertrand, is composed of town 8 south, range 18 west, and all that portion of town 8 south, range 17 west, lying west of the St. Joseph river, being about three and one-half miles in width, and about nine miles in length; the remainder of town 8 south, range 17 west, being now attached to the township of Niles. The act under consideration proposes to detach town 8 south, range 18 west, and erect or organize the same into a new township, to be called the township of Dayton. I am informed that it was also proposed to detach that portion of township 8 south, range 17 west, now forming a part of the township of Niles, and to attach the same to the township of Bertrand, and for this purpose a bill was introduced into the Legislature. That bill, I am informed, has been indefinitely postponed; this being the case, should the township of Bertrand be divided as proposed in the act under consideration, about three-fifths of its present area would be set off, leaving Bertrand but about one-quarter of the usual size of townships, and would place upon this unusually small town the burden of supporting an additional township government, and relieve the three-fifths of the present township, proposed to be set off, from its share of taxation for the support of an expensive bridge across the St. Joseph river, and thereby increase the taxation of Niles township and the remainder of the township of Bertrand. It does not appear that the convenience or real interest of the people would be enhanced by the proposed division; on the contrary, very numerous remonstrances are made against it, and as the board of supervisors in each county has full authority to divide and erect new townships, I deem it my duty respectfully to return the bill for reconsideration.

HENRY P. BALDWIN.

Mr. Mead moved that the vote by which the House passed the bill, be reconsidered;

Which motion prevailed.

The question recurring upon the passage of the bill, pending the taking of the vote thereon,

On motion of Mr. Ingersoll,

The bill was laid on the table.

Mr. Ingersoll, by unanimous consent, offered the following:

Resolved, That the use of this Hall be granted to Hon. E. H. Thomson on Tuesday evening next, for the purpose of delivering a lecture for the benefit of the Reform School band, to assist in liquidating the debt of the boys, incurred in purchasing their instruments;

Which was adopted.

Mr. Brownell, by unanimous consent, offered the following:

Whereas, The committee on drainage have been compelled, by the numerous re-writing and the re-printing and consolidation of the drainage laws, to employ the services of their clerk, Mr. Crozier, of Ottawa, for a much longer time than at first anticipated; therefore

Resolved, That said committee be authorized to allow pay to the said clerk for the time actually employed in such service;

Which was adopted.

The House then resumed the order of
